

of Wisconsin, and Gov. N. E. Kendall of Iowa.

Committee of Washington.

It was decided to appoint a representative from each of the five states to a joint committee to be maintained at Washington to advance the interests of the northwest in the present coal emergency. The committee will be known as the Northwest Coal Committee, and its expenses will be pro-rated among the five states.

The resolutions for approval of government operation in the emergency followed a declaration by Gov. Kendall that, regardless of what action is taken now, hundreds of industries in the northwest will be closed for lack of fuel and thousands of men thrown out of employment. Iowa, he said, has only a two weeks' supply of coal.

ROCKEFELLER TO HELP

Washington, D. C., Aug. 10.—[Special.]—Administration opinion over the coal strike situation did not diminish today.

Expectation that the strike would be settled within a few days was strengthened by encouraging reports from the Cleveland conference between the mine workers' executives and independent Ohio, Pennsylvania, Indiana, and Illinois operators, and the information that the influence of John D. Rockefeller Jr., and his extensive coal mine interests were enlisted in the effort to end the controversy.

Administration officials and coal operators who are in Washington were informed that the Rockefeller coal interests of the east and middle west embraced in the Consolidation Coal company, one of the largest in the country, were preparing to join in the settlement with the miners at Cleveland, and prediction was made that this would pave the way for a general settlement which is being quietly worked up by William A. Glasgow of Philadelphia, counsel for the mine workers, and Ralph Crews of New York, who represents a large group of operative interests, including the Rockefeller holdings.

Big Coal Production Near.

With the group of independent now represented at Cleveland signed up, it was declared here that coal production on a big scale could begin at once and that it would be useless for other operators in the central competitive field to hold out longer.

Negotiations, it was declared, were still going on between the Glasgow-Crews agents and recalcitrant operators in Illinois and Indiana with a view to enlisting their support to the plan of settlement proposed which would continue the last year's wage scale until next March, extending the checkoff system until that time, provide for a coal commission to investigate and report on the industry, and suspend all controversy until next spring.

Plan Transportation of Fuel.

The problem of transporting coal supplies from Kentucky and the Virginias up the great lakes before the suspension of navigation is being given serious attention by the federal fuel committee. A tentative figure of 3,500,000 tons a week has been agreed upon for immediate movement, but this figure may be changed at any time as the situation may be reflected in the daily figures on coal production and movement.

Start First Indiana Coal.

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 10.—[By the Associated Press.]—The first coal mine here, being operated under protection of state troops, went out today, when six carsloads were hauled under armed guard to a main line railroad and started on their way to the great lakes. Union railroad trainmen refused to touch the cars until they were out of the martial law area and they had to be switched to the trunk line with a little "dinky" mine engine.

COAL OPERATORS IN ILLINOIS CRY 'TO A SHOWDOWN'

Say Lewis Is "Bluffing" in Cleveland.

"The coal strike, as far as Illinois is concerned, will be a fight to a showdown."

That is the "motto" of the Illinois Coal Operators' association as announced yesterday at the end of a three days' session at the Great Northern hotel. In the opinion of those in closest touch with the situation, the "showdown" is not far off. And there are rumors among the strikers of break in the operators' ranks.

The operators insist that John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, must back down his demand for a four state conference or else yield to arbitration as suggested by President Harding.

The operators adjourned until 10 o'clock this morning, but only to discuss any new developments that might arise. The fact that they were instructed to keep in close touch with their secretary, Dr. F. C. Honold, was taken to mean that some word was expected from President Lewis.

It was also rumored that a committee of operators had gone to Toledo to confer there with W. A. Glasgow of Philadelphia, counsel for the union and representative of Lewis. Despatches from Toledo stated Herman Perry and J. Hodges were two of the Illinois mine owners said to be conferring with Glasgow.

Renew Propaganda Charge.

The operators again accused Lewis of broadcasting propaganda without foundation in fact for the purpose of trying to "frighten" some of the smaller operators into recognizing the so-called four state conference. They also declared the "cleaning up" activities at Illinois mines are merely going forward so immediate mining of coal may be got under way the moment a settlement is reached.

"We believe it is to the public interest that we fight this thing out to a finish now," said W. K. Kavanagh, president of the operators of the Bellevue district.

"Lewis, by no stretch of imagination, can call the Cleveland meeting a four state conference. He has only about 70 per cent of Ohio and a small representation from Pennsylvania. He has no operators from Indiana or Illinois, and he is not going to a settlement with them tomorrow. If he doesn't he ought to abandon his four state idea and leave Frank Farrington free to negotiate a separate settlement in Illinois."

Will to Stay on Job.

From Springfield came the word last night that Robert M. Medill is to remain on the job as state fuel administrator and that Gov. Small probably will announce his permanent appointment today. At the same time it is expected the governor will announce names of the downstate and Chicago committees to supervise the rationing of coal.

In Chicago it is predicted the head of the committee will be a city hall man, as it is known that Gov. Small held a conference on the subject with Corporation Counsel Estlin prior to the former's departure for Springfield on Wednesday.

In the meantime railroads are accepting priority orders issued by the state commerce commission so far as public utilities are concerned.

A survey made of 499 industries by the Illinois Manufacturers' association shows they have a total tonnage of $1,025, or an average of eight tons each. Nearly 100 concerns reported no coal at all.

STRUCK BY TRUCK

EUGENE O'BRIEN.
(Photo by Harlow.)

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 10.—Eugene O'Brien, a well known motion picture actor, is in a critical condition at a Hollywood hospital today with internal injuries and a possible fracture of the skull as a result of having been run down by a motor truck last night while walking on a highway in the Hollywood hills.

CITY WATER SUPPLY SOON IN PERIL AS COAL STRIKE RESULT

Municipal coal supplies, including the pockets on which the steam driven pumps which draw the city's water supply from Lake Michigan depend for fuel, are "in a dangerous condition," as a result of the coal strike. The city has less than a thirty day supply on hand to keep the water pumps going and to supply police, fire, and health departments, and use 700 tons a day. City Engineer Alexander Murdoch wrote yesterday to State Fuel Administrator Medill, protesting against the ruling which excludes municipal services from exemption from operation of the order that Illinois must furnish its own coal for the present.

There are 30,000 tons of coal in the city pumping station yards and storage bins, according to yesterday's report to Mr. Murdoch. Already the coal supply at some pumping stations has fallen so low that it has been necessary to transfer coal from other stations with a larger supply.

"I am informed that under the city's police powers it would be legal to commandeer coal to keep the pumps going, but we are up against the possibility that there may be no coal to commandeer," Mr. Murdoch said.

PREDICT PEACE TODAY IN JOLIET RAIL WALKOUT

E. J. & E. Officials Look for Men to Return.

Joliet, Ill., Aug. 10.—[Special.]—Confidence that the striking members of the "Big Four" brotherhoods employed on the Elgin, Joliet and Eastern, who went on strike Tuesday when state troops were placed on guard in the yards of the railroad, would return to work today was expressed tonight by officials of the line.

While no definite reasons for their sanguine attitude could be obtained, it was intimated that "concessions" would be made which "undoubtedly would placate the strikers."

This was taken to indicate that a compromise would be reached by which the strictness of sentries in challenging the yard workers might be relaxed, or else civilian guards substituted for the militiamen.

May Have Wide Impact.

The outcome of the walkout here and the action that the railroad will take in placating the men, if at all, is being watched with intense interest by brotherhood leaders both in Joliet and elsewhere. Upon the course pursued here, it was said by labor leaders, might hinge the course to be pursued by brotherhood members at many other points throughout the country where shops are under guard.

Troops to Stay in City.

Although feeling over the rioting of Monday, when a striking shopman and the chief of the E. J. & E. police were killed and Sheriff James A. Newkirk was wounded severely, in subsidizing company officials and business organizations let down none of the demands that adequate protection be given against recurrence of the trouble. This is taken as boding certain defeat for any demands that may be made by the "Big Four" brotherhood strikers which would entail complete withdrawal of national guard units from the city.

Federal Judge James H. Wilkeson issued an injunction today prohibiting interference with operation of the E. J. & E. or its employees.

Some believe federal action was asked for preliminary to importing a large number of nonunion workers others that it may simply be a feature of a proposed plan to substitute civilian guards for militia.

New Walkout Threatened.

A second possible brotherhood walkout in Joliet was threatened early today when a detachment of military plucked camp adjacent to the large open yards of the Chicago and Alton.

In requesting troops of Col. Morris Supt. T. J. Farrell of the railroad said he feared, as the yards are not protected by a fence, that nonunion car repairmen and other employees there might be molested. Later Mr. Farrell announced that in all probability there would be no need for troops on Alton property.

Acting Sheriff Lundgren issued an order today prohibiting sale of firearms or ammunition within the limits of Will county.

Sheriff James A. Newkirk, seriously wounded in the clash Monday, was reported today to be practically out of danger.

BIG 4 O. K. STRIKES

Cleveland, O., Aug. 10.—[By the Associated Press.]—Telegrams of instruction have been sent to members of the "Big Four" transportation brotherhoods located at points where walkouts are probable, it was announced tonight by Warren F. Stone, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, and D. B. Robertson, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers.

"Take up this situation with the railroad management. Endeavor to eliminate that danger. If you do not succeed the men will not be required or requested to work," read the telegram sent to Atlanta, Ga., and Antioch, Wis.

Earlier in the day telegrams had been sent by W. G. Lee, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, to general chairmen of his organization on the Illinois Central railroad, Chicago and Northwestern railroad, and the Rock Island railroad, notifying them authority to call a strike will be given "if employment on your line is unbearable on account of conditions due to shopmen's strike," and a majority of "your general chairman votes in favor of a strike."

Mr. Stone and Mr. Robertson left tonight for Washington to attend tomorrow's railroad labor conference.

Repetition of Havin Feared.

Cincinnati, O., Aug. 10.—[By the Associated Press.]—Big Four officials announced here today that new men who are employed to take the places of striking shopmen are refusing to go to work in Illinois shops of the company because "of lack of protection and the Havin mine outbreak."

The officials stated that men seeking employment with the company specify before they sign up that they will not work in Illinois, but will go to any other state.

WOMEN CH WHITEWASH AUTO IN

Demand New In Nurse's D

Insured at the man as request into the death of Mrs. Brown, known for forty years by many of the families in Hyde Park, was struck last night by an automobile driven by George G. Florentine, 414 S. Wabash, who was on his way to the corner of Peter M. Brown's body was broken.

Hester alighted after striking the aged woman, who was old but Florentine, who was driving the car, was arrested last night by the police. Florentine made a statement in which he said both he and the woman were in the car since 11 o'clock last night. The accident took place in the evening on the main drive running west in Jackson park.

Mrs. Smith, mother of the deceased, is the acting president of the Hyde Park League, and director of the Community League, was the accident. She is surrounded by Mrs. William 4000 Oakwood avenue, Brown to the hospital.

Survives to Women

According to Mrs. Brown's car suddenly went wrong side of the drive. This story was another witness who was present but who, both Mrs. Witter assert, was to tell it to the coroner's inquest at that time. Mrs. Witter apparently did not know the testimony of the woman to the jury.

Sample of Questioner's questioning of this.

"Q—What's A—Mrs. Brown?"

"Q—Well, speak up, occupation? A—Why, I'm a nurse."

"Q—What's your own work at home?"

"Q—Well, you're a nurse, don't you say so?"

"By the time the witness was asked at his own house would hardly know what he dismissed them as the witness."

When the defendant came, all the witnesses came together at his house. "Now just tell the story," he is quoted "take your time; you know he held against you."

WOMEN CHARGE 'WHITEWASH' AT AUTO INQUEST

Demand New Inquiry Into Nurse's Death.

Presented at the manner in which the inquest into the death of Mrs. Mary Brown, 1015 Indiana avenue, was conducted Wednesday afternoon, Mrs. Herbert Wood Smith, 5545 Dorchester avenue, Hyde Park clubwoman, in a letter to Coroner Peter M. Hoffman today will request that the coroner reopen the inquest so that witnesses may give testimony to a new coroner's jury.

Mrs. Brown, known for more than twenty years by many of the prominent families in Hyde Park as a practical nurse, was struck last Friday night by an automobile driven and owned by George G. Florentine, 5515 South May street. With him was Peter F. Hauser, 1111 Wabash avenue.

Practically every bone in Mrs. Brown's body was broken.

Hauser Makes Statement.

Hauser, alleged after the car had struck the aged woman—she was 65 years old—Florentine after running over her body, it is said, fled in the car, leaving his companion behind.

Police arrested Hauser and, after an all night fight, Florentine at his home. Hauser made a statement to the police in which he said both had been drinking since 11 o'clock in the morning.

The accident occurred at 7:15 in the evening on the south side of the main drive running east and west in Jackson park.

Mr. Smith, member of the educational committee of the Women's City club, acting president and secretary of the Hyde Park League of Women, and director of the Hyde Park community league, was a witness to the accident. She is supported in her demands by Mrs. William H. Witter, 1015 Oakwood avenue, who took Mrs. Brown to the hospital.

According to Mrs. Smith, Florentine's car suddenly swerved to the west side of the drive, hitting Mrs. Brown.

This story was corroborated by other witnesses who were at the inquest but who, both Mrs. Smith and Mr. Witter assert, were not allowed to tell it to the coroner's jury. The women state that Deputy Coroner Walsh apparently did not want to allow the testimony of the witnesses to go to the jury.

Sample of Questioning.

And then she described the deputy coroner's questioning something like this:

"Q—What's your name? A—Mrs. Brown.

RAIL PENSIONS GO HAND IN HAND WITH SENIORITY

Single Exception Is the Pennsy System.

[This is the third article on the subject of "Seniority Rights," which have stood as the chief bar to settlement of the railway shopmen's strike.]

Seniority rights and pension privileges go hand in hand on virtually every railway which pays a service gratuity to retired employees, according to pension experts of three of the largest trunk lines centering in Chicago.

Supreme seniority is dependent upon unbroken service, they said, and, likewise, the largest pensions are paid to men having the best record for continuous service.

A notable exception to this general rule—in a limited sense—is the Pennsylvania railroad, these authorities pointed out.

Something less than fifty of the 202 class 1 roads of the country have pension systems. The Pennsylvania is the pioneer in the pension field, having given effect to its plan in 1900. Most other railways following suit have done so within the last ten years.

System on Pennsylvania.

The following is an excerpt from a statement said to have been prepared in the east on behalf of the Pennsylvania railway and published in THE TRIBUNE yesterday:

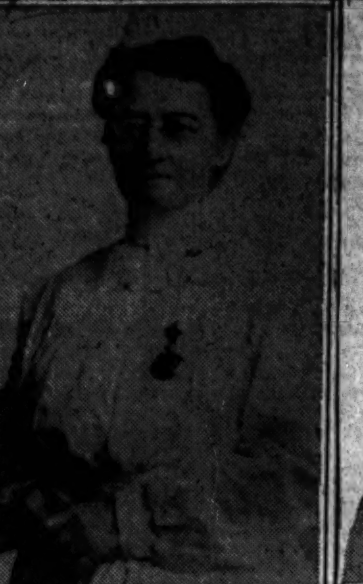

"On the Pennsylvania railroad and on other systems generally seniority rights and pension privileges are entirely separate and distinct matters. A man's seniority is determined by the position his name occupies on a roster kept on his particular craft at the point or for the division where he is employed. If he leaves the service and returns his name goes to the bottom of the roster as of the date on which he is reemployed.

"The importance of seniority is that it entitles a man to the choice of shifts, day or night, and to priority in bidding for better or otherwise more desirable positions as such opportunities open; also that it gives him preference over junior employees in holding his work when it is necessary to lay men off. Seniority depends upon continuity of employment.

"Pensions, however, are based upon the total years of service regardless whether they are continuous or not.

"That statement should have been qualified," said a Chicago representative of the Pennsylvania last night. "In the first place, it should have explained that the virtual divorce of seniority and pension rights applies, so far as I know, to the Pennsylvania only, and not absolutely to our road.

"For instance: If the shopmen now

WOOD BACK FROM PHILIPPINES ON JAN. 1, HE CABLES

Gen. Leonard Wood will return to the United States from the Philippines Jan. 1 and assume his duties as head of the University of Pennsylvania. This announcement was contained in a cablegram yesterday from the general to Albert E. Brunner, president of the Liquid Carbonic company, and a trustee of the university.

The cable ended with a considerable doubt that has arisen during the last few weeks over Wood's failure definitely to set a date when he would take up his duties, according to Mr. Brunner.

The appointment as provost was extended him shortly before sailing for the Philippines as governor general in 1921. He was to return to the university upon the completion of his work in the far east, it was stated at the time. Later the date for the assumption of his task was set for Sept. 1, 1922, and then delayed again at the administration's request.

Marc MacDermott, Movie Star, Nabbed on Wife's Plea

New York, Aug. 10.—[Special.]—Mrs. Myrion Nesbit MacDermott, once a member of Ada Rehan's company, caused the arrest today of her husband, Marc MacDermott, actor and motion picture star, as one step in her separation suit. She will petition in Westchester county tomorrow for $10,000 alimony and $5,000 counsel fees, alleging that her husband last year earned $35,000. MacDermott, an Englishman, was arrested and released on $5,000 bail. Mrs. MacDermott says she was married to MacDermott in London, N. Y., in April, 1916, and he abandoned her last July.

U. S. MARSHALS SENT TO BEARD KILLER IN LAIR

Police Shy at Task of Arresting Genna.

Following charges that Angelo Genna, alleged Black Hand leader, twice charged with murder in the last year, had threatened to kill a 15-year-old girl plaintiff in a "white slave" case if she testified before United States Commissioner Lewis F. Mason, federal warrants were placed in the hands of United States deputy marshals yesterday with instructions to go into the Nineteenth ward and bring him in.

According to federal officials, two members of the police department who know Genna were first asked to serve the warrants, but refused because they "didn't want to take any foolhardy chances."

Force May Be Sent.

Genna is said to have become arrogant since his acquittal on charges of killing Paul Labriola, a Municipal court bailiff, and Paul Knott, who had made a dying statement naming Genna. If Genna takes a stand against the marshals, who say he has a "white slave" case pending in the district court, it is said.

Issuance of the warrant for Genna followed the appearance of Genevieve Court before Commissioner Mason in a hearing of charges of violation of the Mann act against Philip Maltese and Henry Penna. The girl was expected to tell substantially the same story as the one she recited recently in the Criminal court, when she charged that Maltese and Penna had kidnapped her and taken her to Milwaukee, where she charged they and a brother of Maltese had mistreated her.

Genna Confronts Girl.

When the hearing convened it was noted that Genna, whose interest in the case was not known, was careful to sit immediately in front of the Court girl. When called to testify the latter appeared frightened and said that all of her previous stories had been false.

Department of Justice Agent Frank Martineck then took the girl into custody for questioning. She then admitted Genna and Maltese had seen her Wednesday night, when they are alleged to have made the death threat.

MISS GENEVIEVE COURT.

STATE PREPARES TO PROSECUTE IN HERRIN MURDERS

Marion, Ill., Aug. 10.—[By the Associated Press.]—State's Attorney Delmar Duty, Sheriff Melvin Thaxton and other officials of Williamson county, working under orders of Attorney General Brundage, are quietly gathering evidence against participants in the mine war at the strip pit of the Southern Illinois Coal company, near here, June 21 and 22, in which nineteen non-union workers were massacred and three union miners were killed.

It was stated today by a county official that sufficient evidence has been collected to convict many participants in the disorders, but that complete evidence as to the mob leaders still is lacking.

The understanding in Williamson county is that no arrests will be made in connection with the riots until the regular September term of the grand jury convenes and returns indictments.

HE PREDICTED RAIN OF BRICKS, AND WAS RIGHT

Aurora, Ill., Aug. 10.—Something told Frank Carr of Aurora the other day that his house was going to be a storm center that night, and he galloped down to former Mayor George Alschuler's office and got a "riot and commotion" insurance policy. Sure enough there was a violent shower in the evening, and Carr's house got it all. A lot of bricks that were that fell on his roof, and drove through the windows.

He appeared at Alschuler & Co.'s office today to collect. He did not know who threw the bricks, but thought it was striking shopmen or sympathizers. He is employed by the Burlington railroad.

TWO MORE FILM ROMANCES CRASH, HOLLYWOOD SAYS

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 10.—[Special.]—"We are separated, it is true, but our separation has never been discussed with attorneys; it hasn't come to that yet," said Herbert Somborn, husband of Gloria Swanson, film star, last night, when he admitted that he and his beautiful wife are no longer living together.

Last spring when Gloria Swanson left Los Angeles for Europe he denied the separation and she would not discuss the report. Though admitting it today, Mr. Somborn denied he was contemplating a divorce.

Mr. Somborn is residing at the Ambassador, Gloria is living in a bungalow in Hollywood. They were married in December, 1915, and have a daughter 1½ years old.

A few moments after Mr. Somborn's frank declaration, Blanche Sweet, also residing at the Ambassador, refused to discuss reports of a formal separation from her husband, Miss Sweet, who became the bride of Marshall Neilan in Chicago on June 7, would not admit that the fact that she is living at the Ambassador with her mother, while Mr. Neilan lives in Hollywood, has any significance. He conceded, however, that the Ambassador is now her home.

Questioned today regarding the property settlement made for his wife, William S. ("Bill") Hart shook his head and refused to discuss his statement of yesterday about their separation of three months. Hart has said he has provided for the child expected next month by his wife, formerly Winifred Westover, screen actress. He also refused to talk.

Another film star, Miss Texas Guinan, won her liberty today at a preliminary hearing, where she was charged with grand larceny, as the result of the sale of a powerful automobile recently. The car had been mortgaged.

MURPHY FREED; COURT DECLARES EVIDENCE WEAK

Fate of 3 Others Goes to Jury Tomorrow.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

"The evidence is not sufficient to sustain a conviction."

In this brief sentence, Justice Thomas Taylor Jr. yesterday took the heart out of the great "terrorist conspiracy" trial by advising the prosecuting attorneys to dismiss the case against Big Tim Murphy. Although protesting that the evidence was sufficient and that Murphy's innocence or guilt should be determined by the jury, the murder charge against Murphy in connection with the death of Police Lieutenant Terrence Lyons was formally dismissed by Assistant State's Attorney Elwood Godman after conference with his associates.

Big Tim is free, but it may be only for a short time. His attorney, James J. Barbour, whose plea won this decision from the court, informed Justice Taylor that Murphy had been sentenced to federal prison and "must go there soon." The appeal in the mail robbery case is expected to be lost.

Only Three Left.

With "Con" Shea, also missing from the original defense ranks there are left only Fred Mader, Daniel Joseph McCarthy and "Poor John" Miller. Under the indictment and the evidence Miller alone may be found guilty. He is the one the prosecution is least interested in, except as he furnished the needed link between the alleged conspiracy and the police killing.

Arguments to the jury were begun yesterday by Assistant State's Attorney Robert McMillan. Other lawyers will follow today and probably in a night session and the case in its battered form is expected to reach the jury by Saturday night.

It was an impressive moment in the courtroom when Judge Taylor announced his decision. Only a few words, strained through a disciplined mind as a minor case of gold dust, and all the charges, suspicions, inferences, theories against Big Tim went glimmering.

Justice on Tim's Side.
The hysteria melted away. Facts and law and justice were on the side of Big Tim, and all the bitter words and terrible charges and thousands of words of record and preparations and police work and witness combing were made useless.

The arguments for and against "Big Tim's" freedom had been made in open court and in chambers. The jury was out most all day and has not yet been informed of Murphy's release. It leaves a complicated situation. If the evidence against Murphy was not strong enough to sustain a conviction, how can it be used to convict the others, the lawyers want to know. The court ruled that all the evidence stands and refused to advise a nolle pro in the case of Mader and McCarthy.

WOMAN INJURED IN AUTO ACCIDENT SHIELDS COMPANION

Mrs. Frances Flynn, 40 years old, who gave her address as Bellefontaine,

O., was picked up by police at the intersection of 63d street and Rhodes avenue in a semi-conscious condition yesterday afternoon. A wrecked automobile, a short distance away indicated that the woman had been in an accident and had fainted when endeavoring to flee from the scene.

When removed to a hospital the woman refused to give any details as to the accident. She refused to tell how she got to Chicago or who was the driver of the automobile.

Yet it was through Murphy's alleged intimacy with Miller, the argument that Murphy got Miller to drive the automobile on the night of May 8, that formed an essential part of the proof of the conspiracy. John Miller was not the only one in court who was somewhat befuddled as to the proceedings. Mr. Godman's argument was based on the testimony of Smash Hanson and Harry Paygan. He pictured Murphy as the real brains of the conspiracy to bomb buildings, intimidate contractors, and milk Chicago business for a big fund.

No Proof of Conspiracy.
Mr. Barbour's argument was brief. He contended that it required proof of active participation to make a conspirator and that there was not a shred of evidence that Murphy in any way did an unlawful act. He pointed out how unjust it was for Murphy to be prejudiced before the jury by such testimony as that concerning Mo-

Carthy's war record. Murphy, he said, according to his standards and environment, is a good citizen.
"The question of the right to submit the case to the jury does not arise in my mind regarding Mader and McCarthy," said the judge in chambers. "But suppose the jury gave Murphy a sentence of years or voted to have him hanged, would I feel that the jury was justified beyond a reasonable doubt?"

Mr. Godman suggested that maybe the jury would acquit Murphy and that, anyway, the court would have control of the situation after the verdict was in. He said that great harm would be done the state case by dismissal of this defendant.

Mr. Barbour said:

"I am appealing for a submerged people very sensitive to injustice. I have told my client from the start that he would get a fair deal in Chicago, from this judge and this jury, which is not made up of his kind of men. All of us in this room should feel that this man is not guilty under this evidence and perhaps not guilty at all."

Mr. Barbour said that he had refused to take the case until he had become convinced that Murphy was innocent of this crime.

STATEMENT BY COURT

Judge Taylor went on the bench again at 11:50 o'clock. There was a complete hush in the room broken only by the faint rumble of the city.

"The court has difficulty in considering this motion," said the judge. "The case, of course, is complicated and involves a great variety of facts. There is a light of connection here and there that may tend to show participation by some of the defendants. But assuming all of the evidence put in by the state to be true there still remains in the judgment of the court a reasonable doubt as to whether a conviction of the defendant Murphy would be sustained. I feel it my duty after most careful thought to advise the state's attorney in the language of Justice Cartwright of the Supreme court that the evidence is not sufficient to sustain a conviction. I will leave the state's attorney to use his own discretion."

Godman Defers to Court.
Mr. Godman replied that he had presented his case and still felt that the evidence sustained the charge in the indictment and that the jury should pass on the questions of fact.
"Nevertheless," he said, "if your honor, as an impartial arbiter, whose judgment is untouched by any possible partisanship, feels that a verdict of the jury against Murphy on this evidence could not be sustained, and if you feel that it would be your duty to grant a new trial in case of conviction, I am perfectly willing to take your honor's judgment."

Court was adjourned until 1:30 o'clock, at which time Mr. Godman entered his formal dismissal of the case against Murphy. Attorneys Charles Erbstein and Frank Comerford were on their feet at once with similar motions for their clients and with inquiries as to how this would affect the evidence.

Rules Evidence Stands.
"The evidence stands," said the judge, "and the exit of Shea and Murphy ought not to have any bearing in determination by the jury of the guilt or innocence of the remaining defendants."

Mr. Comerford made a somewhat extended argument for freedom for his client, but was overruled. Mr. Erbstein made no argument, submitting a formal motion, which was overruled. He said he was satisfied to go to the jury. Mr. Barbour expressed the thanks to the court and prosecuting attorneys for their courtesy.

The defendant, Miller, sat by Murphy's side while this process of freeing Big Tim was going on. He did not show any emotion, certainly not the emotion that might have been exhibited if he knew Murphy and the others were guilty, as the state charged.

Gang Led Murphy Away.

Mrs. Murphy, Tim's mother, wandering about the hallway half an hour after the dismissal, asked if he was "out for good." She could hardly credit this good fortune. Friends crowded round congratulating him and he disappeared with his friends down the long hallway.

Regarding the motion to dismiss McCarthy, the court said that motions of this kind should not be away with the jury system; that, assuming all the evidence against McCarthy to be true and all inferences legitimate, it was his decision that he was bound to let it go to the jury.

Mr. McMillan began his argument at 2:45 o'clock. At adjournment at 4:15 he said he still had half an hour to go. He read law covering conspiracy cases, calling attention to the Chicago anarchist case in which there were bombings and intimidations and killings. He contended that the unlawful act shown in this case culminated in the murder of Lyons and that the defendants, although they might not have originated the conspiracy or been present at the killing, were guilty if that murder was shown to be in furtherance of a common design.

The conspiracy began, he said, when Mader sent Hanson to see the building contractors and Citizens' committee heads to fix things. He asked that the jury show no leniency; that it was their duty to make Chicago a safe place in which to live and do business. He called attention to the testimony that there had been no bombings since May 10, the day these defendants were arrested. In his analysis of the testimony he concentrated mostly on McCarthy and Miller. Mr. Comerford objected to his statements regarding McCarthy's war record, but the court said McMillan was justified in making the statements.

Plan for Heating Comfort—Use Fuel Oil!

This scientific oil burner is a logical investment.
Write for information on The Automatic Janitor!

Oil is a new discovery for the home. Its advantages are enormous. At this time of coal shortage it is a simple, practical way out of all heating difficulties.

Clean, Dependable, Heat

The Combustion Fuel Oil Burner is an Automatic Janitor because it so perfectly performs the drudgery of your furnace work. It works in any furnace without reconstruction of any kind. With steam, hot water, vapor or hot air. Its parts are superior in many ways and will last. IMPORTANT—The Automatic Janitor not only burns the very cheapest fuel oil, but any other oils you may desire. Your supply is assured at a cost as low as six and a half cents a gallon. And only a small amount of gas and electricity is used.

Read what others write

"Since I have installed your Oil Burner I have had no dirt, coal dust or ashes. It has given, especially during the very cold spell, all the heat necessary. The cost of oil I find has been about 20% less than coal," says the owner of a nine-room home with hot water heat.

Coolidge Also S Bar Meeting

San Francisco, Cal. A given to federal justice Taft told the American Association of Judges that the American people declared that they would not accept a president unless the people were given a fair trial.

Mr. Taft's recommendation for reforming the federal judiciary through the amendment of two judges' terms, Supreme Court, circuit courts, and three leading judges was accepted. It also was on record in the creation of a bureau to study the federal judiciary and for the recommendation of a new American ideal.

TAFT APPEALS FOR MORE POWER FOR THE COURTS

Coolidge Also Speaks at Bar Meeting.

San Francisco, Cal., Aug. 10.—More power given to federal judges will prevent many failures of justice, Chief Justice Taft told the American Bar association convention today, while other speakers declared that justice cannot be done unless the people rely on the courts.

Taft's recommendation that the federal judiciary be reformed by a commission composed of two judges each from federal, state and district courts, and three leading practitioners of the law was accepted. The commission also was to have the duty of recommending a bureau to promote understanding and respect for American law and for the constitution, as recommended by a committee on American law.

The President speaks. President Calvin J. Coolidge declared the time had come to supplement the appeal to the law, which he said must be a limited one, with an appeal to the spirit of the people. "Justice cannot be done unless the people have been betrayed," said the President, "but our countrymen must remember that they have and we have no dependence save themselves. Our institutions are their institutions, our government their government, our laws are their laws."

The failure of justice in this country, said Chief Justice Taft, "especially in the state courts, have been largely due to the withholding of power from judges than to any other cause, and yet judges have to bear the brunt of general criticism."

People's Rights Endorsed. Both the committee on American law and Mr. Coolidge denounced the proposal to give congress power to make valid by reenactment a law declared unconstitutional by the Supreme court, saying it would deprive the people of the protection of the constitution and subject them to the will of a majority of a legislative body, endangering freedom of speech and action.

Respect for American law and courts has suffered through popular ignorance, according to this committee, which urged the fostering of respect and confidence in American legal institutions through instruction in schools and colleges and the creation of a department of American citizenship in every newspaper and magazine. Maj. E. B. Tolman, Chicago, was a member of the committee.

A note of warning against defiance of the law was sounded by George W. Whelan, former United States attorney general, in an address at a luncheon attended by Mr. Taft, Mr. Coolidge and other notables.

"The government can long endure," he said, referring to the same article in the constitution, "without respect for its constitution and laws nor its selfish interests of particular cases are permitted to contest the law and facts of government."

Daugherty Wives Convention. Washington, D. C., Aug. 10.—(Special.)—Attorney General Daugherty today sent a telegram to C. A. Severance, president of the American Bar association, urging that body to take steps to encourage the formation of state, county and municipal organizations to combat foreign propaganda and the principles and needs for such government.

MRS. WATLING TO GET HER DIVORCE, JUDGE INDICATES

Details of turbulent domestic scenes in fashionable north shore hotels told by Mrs. Mayne Wood Watling, widow of the late Raymond Thorne, caused Judge Donald Morrill to indicate yesterday that he would grant her a divorce from Frank Burns Watling, son of the head of the Watling Scale company. Mrs. Watling will resume her former name of Mrs. Raymond Thorne.

MRS. FRANK B. WATLING. (TRIBUNE Photo.)

"Inconstant quarrels" and frequent beatings were corroborated by the testimony of her sister, Mrs. Caroline Louise Oliver, 5118 Cornell avenue. Mrs. Oliver's husband also testified in behalf of his sister-in-law.

The Sheridan-Plaza, Edgewater Beach, Sherburne Beach, and Drake hotels were named by Mrs. Watling as the scenes of many assaults upon her by Watling. Mrs. Oliver asserted that in her presence Watling had struck Mrs. Watling and on one occasion had pulled a chair from under her.

The decree, which contains no alimony provision, will confirm Mrs. Watling's title to the furnished FRANK B. WATLING house at 220 East Pearson street, and to her automobiles and jewelry.

GREEKS EXPECT ADMITTANCE TO CONSTANTINOPLE

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)

CONSTANTINOPLE, Aug. 9.—[Delayed.]—Prime Minister Lloyd George's speech before the house of commons created a profound impression here, especially in British circles. Except for the fact that Gen. Harrington has received a telegram from the government backing up his policy, there is every indication that the Greek move, if not made with the consent or sanction of Downing street, at least meets with its approval.

From a high diplomatic source it was learned that the Greeks were amazed when their right of entry into the city was not recognized by the troops sent to block their advance on the famous Tchaialia line. They evidently believed they would march into the city unopposed.

The allied forces on the front have been seriously weakened to garrison the city and mass on the Thracian frontier, but thus far there is no indication that the Turkish nationalists intend advancing despite their reported threat to occupy the Asiatic shore of the Bosphorus, if the Greeks enter Constantinople.

Hoover 43; Celebrates by Being "Busier than Ever"

Washington, D. C., Aug. 10.—Secretary Hoover celebrated today his forty-third birthday. Commerce department officials declared the only notice he took of the anniversary was to be "busier than ever."

UNRELISHED KISSES AND SWORD PLAY FIGURE IN DIVORCES

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)

Unpalatable kisses, incompatible tempers, superfluous husbands, and even Roumanian gendarmes were named as causes for divorce in cases heard yesterday.

Mrs. Marie P. Woods, 6885 Olmsted avenue, asserted that George Woods had often told her that her kisses "made him sick." The couple were married May 12, 1916, and separated on Feb. 15, 1922.

"If incompatibility causes others the agony that it does us, I feel sure divorce is the only solution," wrote Arthur J. Curtis to Mrs. Ruth Curtis, 1915 North Spaulding avenue. Mrs. Curtis testified that she had "been returned to mother" when Curtis declared that he was tired of her.

Abandoned in Omaha by Lucas Politis, who she said had denied a legal marriage, Mrs. Mabel Politis married a Nebraska farmer. Politis then returned with proof of a ceremony and demanded that she leave the farmer. Judge Miller indicated he would grant the divorce.

"While we were living in Roumania," said Transilvania Rabigles, "my wife, Helena, became infatuated with the village gendarme. I returned to my home unexpectedly one night and the gendarme, grasping his sword, threatened me. I fled to America."

TICKETS STILL SOLD ON CARS; BLAME CITY HALL

Cleveland Delays Order, Lines' Lawyer Says.

Blame for the failure of mediators in the recent traction strike to make good on their promises of cooperation to end the sale of tickets on street cars, was laid on the city hall doorstep yesterday by Harry P. Weber, attorney for the surface lines.

Since the settlement of the strike, when the men were assured by Ald. Thomas F. Byrne, Ald. James E. Bowler, and D. F. Kelly, the subcommittee appointed by Chairman Schwartz of the peace committee to deal with the men, that the tickets would be eliminated, Mr. Weber says he has made numerous attempts to gain the consent of Chester E. Cleveland, Mayor Thompson's traction attorney, to the entry of the necessary amendment to the federal injunction decree requiring the sale of the tickets on the cars. Charge Cleveland "Stalls."

Attorneys for the company and spokesmen for the men declare that Mr. Cleveland is "stalling." Those in touch with the men assert that "this is not a trivial situation," that "it will be found to be filled with dynamite" and hint that there may be a flat refusal on the part of the men to sell the tickets, tantamounting to a suspension of service.

"Mr. Cleveland said he would meet me Monday morning in the Federal building to enter the order," Mr. Weber said yesterday. "I met him there. He said: 'I met him there.'"

"When we were in substantial agreement on the order, Mr. Cleveland said he could not agree to its entry until he had submitted it to his boss. He went back to the city hall to submit the order to his boss, as he said, and since that I have been unable to get anything out of him except excuses."

Just after the settlement Corporation Counsel Eitelson, in claiming for the city hall credit for the peaceful outcome, pointed to Cleveland's agreement to ask the U. S. court to relieve the conductors of the sale of tickets. Spokesmen for the men declared that during the rush hours packets of tickets are "lifted" from conductors by pickpockets and that the elimination of sales on the cars would shorten stops and thus speed up street car traffic.

BOND SALESMAN CAUGHT IN "STOP THIEF" PURSUIT

Edward Durrance, debonair salesman of securities, a resident of the Cooper-Carlton hotel, registered at the Central station last night after an exciting chase through the loop which culminated in his arrest at Monroe and La Salle streets by Traffic Officer John C. King.

For over a week Benjamin Leiser, theatrical tailor, has haunted the lobby of the Morrison hotel seeking Durrance, who, he asserts, gave him four Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific railroad $1,000 bonds as security for a $1,500 loan. Investigation disclosed that the bonds had been stolen in Toledo and later canceled.

Durrance, passing through the hotel, broke into a mad dash for the Madison street door when he observed Leiser.

G. O. P. DESERTED HIM, LA FOLLETTE TELLS AUDIENCES

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

Madison, Wis., Aug. 10.—(Special.)—Being called "radical," a bohemian, a bolshevik, La Follette accepts as playful campaign paraphrase; but when he is challenged to show by what right he is a candidate in a Republican primary the old man shakes his head and wrinkles his brow. He only impresses this anew with the depth of infamy to which his opposition has sunk.

La Follette not a Republican. Why? If you take it from the senator he says those who agree with him are the only genuine, warranted not to fade Republicans, and all others are mere imitations. He has not left the Republican party far from it; the Republican party has left him.

Anguish Over Their Straying.

"Battling Bob" is touched with a great sorrow when he tells his audience how far the Republican party has departed from the true faith on the question of the tariff, the trusts, the railroads, the merchant marine, and every other issue.

He is unable to find anything the Republicans have done which he conscientiously can commend. Here and there something creditable has been done, but not by the Republican party. He modestly tells to whom the credit is due.

Altogether it's a sorry mess the Republicans have made of public affairs, according to La Follette. They have enriched the rich and impoverished the poor, and delivered us over to clank our chains at the chariot wheels of Great Britain, France, and Japan.

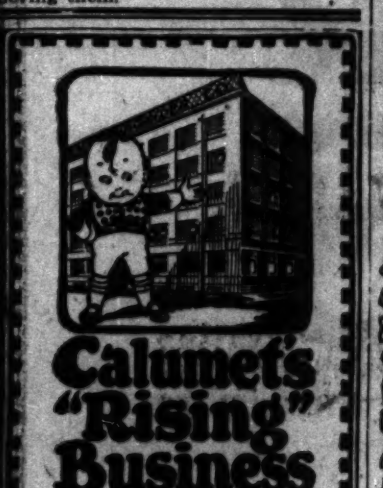

Wrong from the Start.

The poor, benighted Republicans went wrong in their platform, to begin with, having rejected the La Follette platform, but it remained for the Harding administration to complete the party downfall. But La Follette is sure he can save the sinners if they will give him half a chance.

La Follette, with broad, lavish strokes of the palette knife, splashes into the picture a forbidding background of chaos and ancient night—"agriculture prostrate," despite such temporizing efforts at revival as the Republican emergency tariff act; "coal industry paralyzed," with famine coal prices adding millions to the wealth of the coal barons; our $3,000,000,000 merchant fleet tied up at the wharves from which British ships are carrying American cargoes while the Republicans propose to let a subsidy bonus to the individuals who can be prevailed on to purchase the fleet for $200,000; "railroads in much the same condition as our ships"; "depression, poverty, and want the fate of the great mass of the producing farmers and laborers," while the "masters of coal, oil, iron, steel, cotton, wool, grain, meat, and money have accumulated more wealth than the last four years than they ever dreamed of possessing before."

Congress Also Is a Sinner.

When, proceeding to sketch in the background of this picture of horrors, La Follette observes that "no completely political has been the nation's administration and the majority in our congress to the needs and point of view of the common man that the legislation passed and proposed by the congress have aggravated the lot of the people I have described, instead of relieving them."

Quits Shipping Board

ELMER SCHLESINGER.

ELMER SCHLESINGER of Chicago, attorney for the United States shipping board, has resigned, to take effect on Sept. 1, according to Washington reports yesterday. It is understood his reason is that he desires to get back into the active practice of law in Chicago, where he is a member of the firm of Mayer, Meyer, Austrian & Platt.

Mr. Schlesinger has long been an intimate friend of Albert D. Lasker, and when the latter became chairman of the shipping board he urged his friend to become the board's chief attorney. Mr. Schlesinger accepted the position when Mr. Lasker's pleas were backed by a request from Senator McDuff McCormick. Attorney Schlesinger is now in California.

Ex-Dry Sleuth Indicted by Federal Grand Jury

Indictments charging Marshall J. O'Brien, former prohibition agent, and Clifford Bestor, with extortion were returned yesterday before Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson. They are charged with "skating down" a west side saloonkeeper for $200. Eight indictments were returned charging violation of the Harrison anti-narcotic act. Among those indicted was "Big Bertha" Smith, well known in the black belt underworld, who caused the arrest recently of Detective Sergeant "Handsome Jim" Dubach and three other men as alleged "dope" dealers.

La Follette, with broad, lavish strokes of the palette knife, splashes into the picture a forbidding background of chaos and ancient night—"agriculture prostrate," despite such temporizing efforts at revival as the Republican emergency tariff act; "coal industry paralyzed," with famine coal prices adding millions to the wealth of the coal barons; our $3,000,000,000 merchant fleet tied up at the wharves from which British ships are carrying American cargoes while the Republicans propose to let a subsidy bonus to the individuals who can be prevailed on to purchase the fleet for $200,000; "railroads in much the same condition as our ships"; "depression, poverty, and want the fate of the great mass of the producing farmers and laborers," while the "masters of coal, oil, iron, steel, cotton, wool, grain, meat, and money have accumulated more wealth than the last four years than they ever dreamed of possessing before."

U. S. AND BERLIN AGREE ON FIXING OF WAR CLAIMS

Washington, D. C., Aug. 10.—Secretary Hughes tonight announced that an agreement was signed today in Berlin between the United States and Germany providing for the determination of the amount of the claims against Germany.

The agreement provides for a claims commission composed of two commissioners and an umpire. One commissioner is to be named by each government and the two governments are to agree upon an umpire. The umpire is to decide finally any questions on which the commissioners may disagree. With the signing of the agreement the state department disclosed that the German government expressed its desire to have an American citizen appointed as the umpire and requested

President Harding to make the designation accordingly.

Pursuant to this request, the President has named as umpire William R. Day, associate justice of the United States Supreme court. The name of the American commissioner will be announced later.

Terms Computed Accepted.

The agreement contains the following provisions:

"ARTICLE ONE: The commission shall pass upon the following categories of claims which are more particularly defined in the treaty of August 25, 1921, and in the treaty of Versailles:

(1) Claims of American citizens, arising since July 31, 1914, in respect of damage to, or seizure of, their property, rights and interests, including any company or association in which they are interested, within German territory as it existed on Aug. 1, 1914;

(2) Claims of American citizens, arising since July 31, 1914, in respect of damage to, or seizure of, their property, rights and interests, including any company or association in which they are interested, within German territory as it existed on Aug. 1, 1914;

(3) Claims of American citizens, arising since July 31, 1914, in respect of damage to, or seizure of, their property, rights and interests, including any company or association in which they are interested, within German territory as it existed on Aug. 1, 1914;

(4) Claims of American citizens, arising since July 31, 1914, in respect of damage to, or seizure of, their property, rights and interests, including any company or association in which they are interested, within German territory as it existed on Aug. 1, 1914;

(5) Claims of American citizens, arising since July 31, 1914, in respect of damage to, or seizure of, their property, rights and interests, including any company or association in which they are interested, within German territory as it existed on Aug. 1, 1914;

(6) Claims of American citizens, arising since July 31, 1914, in respect of damage to, or seizure of, their property, rights and interests, including any company or association in which they are interested, within German territory as it existed on Aug. 1, 1914;

(7) Claims of American citizens, arising since July 31, 1914, in respect of damage to, or seizure of, their property, rights and interests, including any company or association in which they are interested, within German territory as it existed on Aug. 1, 1914;

(8) Claims of American citizens, arising since July 31, 1914, in respect of damage to, or seizure of, their property, rights and interests, including any company or association in which they are interested, within German territory as it existed on Aug. 1, 1914;

(9) Claims of American citizens, arising since July 31, 1914, in respect of damage to, or seizure of, their property, rights and interests, including any company or association in which they are interested, within German territory as it existed on Aug. 1, 1914;

(10) Claims of American citizens, arising since July 31, 1914, in respect of damage to, or seizure of, their property, rights and interests, including any company or association in which they are interested, within German territory as it existed on Aug. 1, 1914;

(11) Claims of American citizens, arising since July 31, 1914, in respect of damage to, or seizure of, their property, rights and interests, including any company or association in which they are interested, within German territory as it existed on Aug. 1, 1914;

(12) Claims of American citizens, arising since July 31, 1914, in respect of damage to, or seizure of, their property, rights and interests, including any company or association in which they are interested, within German territory as it existed on Aug. 1, 1914;

(13) Claims of American citizens, arising since July 31, 1914, in respect of damage to, or seizure of, their property, rights and interests, including any company or association in which they are interested, within German territory as it existed on Aug. 1, 1914;

(14) Claims of American citizens, arising since July 31, 1914, in respect of damage to, or seizure of, their property, rights and interests, including any company or association in which they are interested, within German territory as it existed on Aug. 1, 1914;

STATE FIGHTS TO TIE $1,500 GRAFT TO UNION CHIEFS

Alleged "Slush" Check
Paid, Is Testified.

With defense attorneys fighting bitterly to prevent introduction of damaging testimony, the state devoted yesterday afternoon to an effort to tie the alleged labor extortion case to trial in Judge Oscar M. Torrison's Circuit court the payment of $1,500 labor graft money.

While the defendants, Thomas Walsh, Roy Shields, Frank Hayes, and Peter Kane watched every move, the state hammered home points concerning the alleged payment of the $1,500 by Gottschalk & Co., builders of the Portage theater, to a "slush fund" of the sheet metal workers.

Objections Are Thick.

Every question asked of witnesses met with instant objection by Attorneys Benedict J. Short and William E. Rodriguez for the defense.

Benny Krutzer, 3646 North Richmond street, testified first that as a member of the sheet metal workers his duty was to phone to Walsh and Kane anything "unfair" on a job, and that he had done so on use of certain type of metal doors on the Portage theater job.

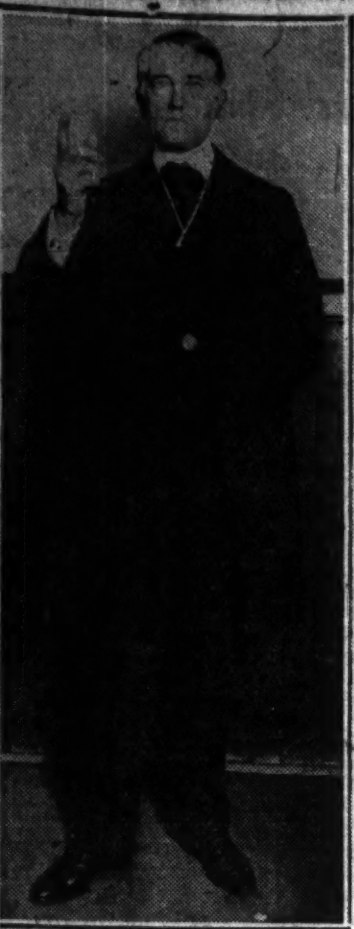

Victor von Meding, 2120 Lincoln street, Evanston, is a paying teller for Freeman Brothers' bank. He said he cashed the alleged "slush fund" check for $1,500 on Aug. 20, 1920. It was made out to Edward Browarski and signed by Gottschalk & Co.

Door Contract Cancelled.

A contract for hollow metal doors for the building was cancelled, Frank Arthur Larson, official of a metal manufacturing, next testified. It had previously been brought out that the sheet metal workers had forced substitution of doors more to their liking.

Meyer Friedstein, 5112 Woodlawn avenue, secretary of the Gottschalk company, corroborated testimony given by Browarski as to the payment of $1,500 to the defendants. Browarski's story was that he cashed the Gottschalk check and turned the money over in currency.

HOLDS ART PAGAN

The Rev. John Roach Straton.
[TRIBUNE Photo.]

"The sculpture, painting and drama of today glorify the sensual; the art of today is godless and Pagan and has departed from the standards of Christianity," declared the Rev. John Roach Straton, pastor of Calvary Baptist church, New York, last night at the graduation exercises of the Moody Bible institute.

"The learning of today is half baked and vain," he continued, "and most of it has come from the materialism of Europe."

The church, he said, is honeycombed with the dry rot of rationalism, and what the country needs is a return to the old moral and spiritual standards.

One hundred and seven students, the largest class in the history of the institute, received diplomas at the close of the exercises.

EVANSTON YOUTH AFTER WORLD'S GLIDER PRIZE

BY EDMUND ALLEN

of Evanston, member of American Glider Team
[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service]
[Copyright, 1922, by The Chicago Tribune.]

CLERMONT-FERRAND, Aug. 10.—Switzerland is leading America by three minutes after ten flights today in the international glider contest. The American team did not attempt a flight today, but mapped air currents and made adjustments preparatory to advanced soaring experiments.

M. Boussoit, flying a Farman, completed his repairs and made an eighty-third second flight. He repeated with an eighty-six second flight. The heavy machine glides beautifully.

Uses Huge Slingshot.

Clement, flying a Sardinier triplane, passed the eliminations and made his second flight in sixty-one seconds, using a huge slingshot to shoot the glider into the air. It did not soar nor rise above its starting place.

Excitement is running high in expectation of startling developments. Rain and lightning and thunder closed the events today. Crowds were witnessing the flights.

For Distance Record.

I am urged to attempt a flight from the peak of Puy de Dome, but am lacking official consent. We intend to tomorrow to try for the distance record from Clermont.

In my last flights yesterday I actually soared for the first time. Most of the French entries are still untried.

Woman Loses $1,150 in Cash and Gems on Car

Jewelry valued at $1,000, a railroad ticket to Denver, and $150 in cash were lost yesterday on a Van Buren street car by Mrs. Mary Walsh of New York.

The jewelry consisted of an unset black opal, an opal brooch and a pair of antique earrings nearly 200 years old.

Kinzie Community Needs Cars for Children's Ride

Loan of automobiles for Tuesday, Aug. 15, is asked by the Kinzie Community center, for the fourth annual auto party for the neighborhood children. Last year, says Eleanor Paradis, director, late arrival and scarcity of cars disappointed many of the children.

TO STUMP MAINE

MRS. MARY HIGHT.

Mrs. Mary Hight, 5307 Kenmore avenue, the first woman appointed by the national Republican campaign committee as worker and speaker, leaves Sunday for Boston, where she will fire the opening guns in the 1924 presidential campaign. Mrs. Hight, characterized by Senator Medill McCormick as "the best stump speaker, man or woman, in the country," will go from Boston to stump the state of Maine.

CHICAGO DOCTOR SIFTS BROTHER'S DEATH IN CANADA

Montreal, Que., Aug. 10.—[Special.]—Local police, aided by Dr. Hugh F. Carey of Chicago, Ill., are investigating the death of Patrick Carey, 52 years old, of Buffalo, N. Y., who was picked up unconscious in a doorway here on July 24, and died a few hours later of morphine poisoning. They are of the opinion that he was murdered and robbed.

Dr. Carey, brother of the dead man, arrived in the city a few days ago and at once appealed to the police to reopen the case because of several circumstances that pointed to murder. The Montreal police had previously given a verdict of poisoning and had the body buried.

According to Dr. Carey, the brother had several thousand dollars in his possession when he left Buffalo a month ago for Montreal to establish himself in business. When found he had only a few dollars in his pocket, according to the police.

CROWE TO RUSH HOME FOR SCHOOL SCANDAL SIFTING TOKO UP GOLF, NOW HE IS BARRED FROM THE LINKS

In response to a notification that the school board "scandal" probably would come up once more before the August grand jury next Monday, State's Attorney Crowe yesterday sent word to Acting State's Attorney Edgar A. Jones that he would cancel his vacation plans in the east and return at once to Chicago. He is expected to arrive Monday in time to hear Chief Justice Scanlan's promised charge to the grand jury on "a special matter."

Mr. Jones is also attempting to reach Assistant State's Attorney George E. Gorman to recall him from his vacation in Michigan. Though both Judge Scanlan and Mr. Jones have refused to make positive statements, it is said there is no doubt that the "special matter" pertains to a reopening of the board of education investigation asked for by citizens' organizations throughout the city.

Actor Killed Doubling for Pearl White in Film Stunt

New York, Aug. 10.—[Special.]—Made up as Pearl White, for whom he was doubling to perform a risk "stunt" in a scene for her future picture, "Blunder," John Stevenson, a motion picture actor, was killed today when he missed his aim as he leaped from the top of a bus to catch a "prop" string of pearls hanging from the elevated structure.

QUITE A BIT BIGGER

Warren S. Stone, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, said in Cleveland that they would have their members beaten up or threatened by armed guards at the railway shops and yards. He said there would be a "hundred such cases if conditions are not changed."

The case which was to be followed by a hundred others was that of Joliet. The members of the brotherhoods employed by the Elgin, Joliet and Eastern railway kept operating the trains because troops of the Illinois national guard had been sent to Joliet to protect the lives of citizens, to maintain order, and uphold law.

They were asked for by the assistant sheriff of Will county, who took over the duties of sheriff after the sheriff had been shot by rioters.

The strike of the brotherhoods in Joliet was against the sovereignty of the state. It was an assertion that the state did not have the right to use force to protect the lives of citizens and maintain its laws. It was not a strike against the employment of private armed guards by the railroad.

Mr. Stone speaks of armed guards, but he is talking of a case in which the state sovereignty was resisted by railroad men and he says there will be other such cases. If he means that as a threat against government, he'll have to be resisted, even if no railroads are operated.

If the state gave up law enforcement because a group of men demanded it that would be the end of the state.

In the Joliet case the issue was between the state in protecting law and a group of men insisting that law should not be upheld by the state. In such an issue there is one of two outcomes. The state wins or it is broken.

If it comes to an open issue, the state will win easily and the railroad unions will be smashed to pieces.

The big 48—the United States—are bigger than the big 4—quite a bit bigger.

IMPROVE OAK STREET BEACH.

The Lincoln park beach has postponed until after the close of this summer's bathing season its decision on the question of providing comfort stations and other conveniences for the thousands of Chicagoans who use the Oak street beach. Perhaps that will subside interest for this year and allow the question to run into next year's season untroubled. It should not do so.

It gives time not only for a proper decision but for the carrying out of that decision before the beach again becomes the mecca of thousands of poor persons seeking relief from the city's heat.

The Oak street bathers and their representatives, including the Women's City club committee, which has interested itself, should keep the matter alive before the board.

The board's position that agreement with property owners who gave up riparian rights for construction of the beach prevents the erection of buildings is sound. If they would not be ungrateful, they would repair what is now a splendid view. But that detail is easily surmounted. One of the things most needed at the beach is a subway under the boulevard, with ramps to make approach to the beach easy and avoid the street congestion. Comfort stations could easily be placed underground on this subway. Even dressing rooms, or at least changing rooms, could be similarly constructed out of sight of residents, pedestrians, or motorists along the shore. Also there is no legal and very little financial difficulty in the way of providing ramps, diving platforms, and springboards at this beach. And a subway would even make it possible to provide dressing rooms at some nearby point west of the boulevard, without distress to any one.

All these possibilities should be considered by the board. There is no time to make the needed improvements this year, but an early decision would allow most of them to be made before the opening of the next season. There is no beach along Chicago's entire lake front more needed, and none which would be more appreciated. The park board cannot spend money to better advantage than in the improvements suggested.

"BOSS" LA FOLLETTE.

Senator La Follette is making a typical La Follette campaign in Wisconsin for the Republican nomination to the United States senate. He is winning howls of delight from German audiences by impassioned reiteration of the arguments which he voiced in congress against the American recognition of a state of war with Germany.

That attitude may win him renomination and election if the voters of Wisconsin are regretful that we won the war. But it does elect him it will pit into the senate the strongest aggregation of principles and theories ever assembled there in the person of one man professing to be a Republican. In fact, he is little more than a Republican than Eugene Debs.

The greatest danger of his return to the senate (not to the state which he represents but to the union of all the states). He has, in demagogic appeal to organized labor, declared himself in favor of revolution in our national government. It is not a revolution by force, to be sure, but in name the less a revolution. He would destroy the Supreme court of the United States and allow congress to rewrite the constitution at will, changing this time tested guarantee of a stable government in America at every whim of shifting majorities and changing political personnel in congress. In that he is not a Republican and he is a national menace.

La Follette has reached a point where his name is seldom recorded with any majority in the roll calls of the senate. Usually he is listed with a minority of hardly more than half a dozen. Yet the senate majority is Republican. That again marks him as outside the party from which he seeks nomination. He is always with the opposition. He gets nothing for his state except a momentary place in the limelight, and is equally futile in getting anything for the nation.

If the Republicans of Wisconsin nominate him they will nominate him as an individual. They will thereby confer upon him the title of "boss," of higher degree than any of the many whom he has decimated throughout his political career.

USE THE BIG STICK NOW,
MR. PRESIDENT.

The coming winter will write history in this country if the coal strike continues as the shopmen's strike spreads to the train service, and it will not be a chapter good for us to write or our posterity to read. It will be a chapter of widespread suffering, which will be the bitterer for being unnecessary. It will be a chapter of economic loss and of political consequences detrimental to the recovery and the abiding strength of the nation.

Confronting this threatened catastrophe, Mr. President, the American people look to you as their chief defense. Great legal powers are vested in your office. Still greater powers of direct and far-reaching influence are in your reach. If you will use them.

The nation calls upon you and will wholeheartedly support you in whatever measure your knowledge and intelligence tell you are necessary to compel peace and a return to service in both these great industries.

Peace must come sooner or later. That agreement should be made now, before it is too late for the prosperity, health, and safety of the people. You, Mr. President, can force peace, for the whole strength of the supreme power of the nation is yours to exert.

WHAT REVOLUTION WOULD DO IN ILLINOIS.

Two sentences in a survey of Russian conditions by THE TRIBUNE correspondent at Riga tell volumes. A census made last winter gives the population of Petrograd at 770,000. In 1917 it was 5,420,000.

Four years of bolshevism have done that for one of the world's great cities.

How should we like a taste of communism? Chicago, according to the census of 1920, numbered 2,761,708. By taking a good dose of "social revolution" we probably could reduce it, in four years to 800,000. That is, if we did as well as the Russian Reds, we could put ourselves back by 1924 to the Chicago of 1880, or retreat forty years in four years.

But this shrinking of a great city, like some wretched being wasted with deadly fever, is only a hint of what a Red revolution would do for us. Imagine our food and fuel reserves gone for lack of working and of planting, followed by a great drought. Imagine Red bands coming the farms for hidden stores. Imagine the railroads gone and the factories shut and no money and no credit. Imagine a million Illinoisians starving. Think of cannibalism in the remote counties and epidemics and little children with emaciated, distorted bodies, motherless and homeless, living in burrows like wild animals, and dying in the streets.

It is impossible for us to take such a picture of Illinois seriously. But revolution could make it a tragic reality. Russia is a country as rich in resources as Illinois. It had in fact less to lose by revolutionary destruction than we have. Much of Russia was comparatively primitive, whereas the people of Illinois largely rely upon a highly organized system of production, transportation, and exchange. A large proportion of our people are in cities and towns and are dependent upon the machinery of surplus production, of transportation, and of finance and credit which the communists propose to destroy. Their fate would be ghastly. But the farmer and his family would fare little better. He might not starve, though in Russia millions of peasants are starving. But he would exist on the border of famine and one crop failure would have him facing starvation like the people of the towns.

Russia seems far away. We think its fate could not befall us. It is not likely to, but it is worth while translating the language of our radicals into concrete consequences. What radicalism has done to the Russian people, it could do to the people even of this fat and sunny land of Illinois.

Beauty of woman?
Can it compare with the beauty of a slim, graceful, craft riding a gently, rolling surf—the beauty of the sea lilies, the blue of a summer sky?
Tidier hair or sea-blue eyes?
What is flaming hair to a flaming sunset sky or sea-blue eyes to the sea shadows themselves?
Capricious woman?
Think you more so than laughing, weeping, smiling, frowning, April skies?
Tender, caressing?
Half as much as the soft, gentle saphires bringing promise of Spring?
Considerate, kind, understanding?
Yes, probably, but not as much as Emil, our headwaiter at the Club; Emil with his helpful suggestions and well timed silences? There, that's it! A woman with well timed silences. Who's ever heard of the creature, who ever did?
So, I ask you, who's better? Why not?

Editorial of the Day

TO UNDERSTAND THE STRIKE.

[Orange Judd Farmer.]
The coal strike and the railroad strike have reached a point where the partial discontinuance of labor on these two basic industries is seriously injuring the farmers of the country. Trains are being discontinued, movement of grains delayed or prevented at the critical threshing period, and general marketing conditions disturbed. The government is moving to force maintenance of as much service as possible and has already issued orders looking to control of coal distribution and to coal rationing in accordance with paramount necessities.

As the situation grows more acute there is an increasing disposition on the part of the public to demand a settlement, any kind of a settlement, and this impatience is likely to lose sight of fundamental things and urge action that is not only economically unwise but will give us permanent injuries as the price of temporary relief.

The basis of the trouble in the determination upon the part of those employed in railroading and coal mining not to join with the rest of the people in accepting an adjustment from war time to peace time conditions. When we talk about wages, if we will just remember that the dollars received are important only as they represent what other people produce and have for sale, we will get a clear view of what is involved.

When the coal miner or the railroad man or the mine owner or the railway stockholder demands the same income in dollars that they enjoyed two years ago they are asking for more bushels of corn or wheat, more pounds of meat or quart of milk, than they were getting two years ago. The reverse of this is that the farmer for his labor in producing these things is getting less coal and less transportation than he is entitled to under any fair exchange of labor effort.

There can be no general prosperity and no just settlement of this controversy until the purchasing power of industrial labor comes to a basis of equality with the purchasing power of farm labor.

There can be no general prosperity and no just settlement of this controversy until the purchasing power of industrial labor comes to a basis of equality with the purchasing power of farm labor.

There was a guy that had it worse than me,
The little guy that did his bit by sea.
The man that from Penzance to St. George's Hunted the Hun and kept the coast free.

Their chow was mostly beans and navy bread,
They kept the bright work clean, and oiled the head.

And did their laundry in a little pool,
Now never knew what minute they'd be dead.
The North Sea combers, on a winter night,
The blundering fishermen, that bore no light,
They had an eye to these, but most of all
To that fish, with murder in his bile.

When Austria's flag began to roll,
The destroyer had a chance to get a hold.
The black gang, in the transport's engine room,
While Fritz torpedoed them, kept shoveling coal.

Honor to him who fights upon the brine,
And takes his chance with submarine and mine.
Let him who will, face Death upon the waves,
I want to be on land when I get mine.

Dear R. H. L.: Last night I dreamed that the W. G. N. gave us the entire last page for the Line and the pictures were confined to the narrow column on the Editorial Sheet. It was so hard for a lot of us amateurs to make it either, because you had to fill up the space. FIVELOPE ANNE.

MAX is quoted in our esteemed contemporary, the W. G. N., as being opposed to both Scotland and Fiume as being recalcitrant enough for his marriage. The top of the Matterhorn might be a good place, as it is seldom crowded. But from the quiet manner in which all the various steps to Max's marriage have been taken we have a smothering notion that the wedding will take place some Monday at high noon, in Chicago, on the corner of State and Madison streets.

SANDAMIN, IF SHE DIDN'T!
R. H. L.: I was pleased with your picture in Sunday's edition, but after seeing that little wretched, Vangie, I can't help but think that some of my contributions haven't made the Line. Vangie looks stubborn and hardbitten enough to eat even the one I sent you about Sam Damm of Dickens, Ia.

MEMORY TESTS

1. How did England deal with Gen.
Burgoyne and Lord Cornwallis, who surrendered armies to the Americans?
Burgoyne after a short campaign in Ireland, was relieved. He wrote two successful comedies and other works.
Cornwallis, being a lord, was given supplies command in India, where he was successful. He is commemorated in Ireland during the rebellion of 1798.
He negotiated the treaty of Amiens
(1802) with Napoleon, which England broke as soon as possible.

2. Over what state in this country is Mexico? Virginia? The northeastern point of Africa is in latitude north 37° degrees, which is about the latitude of Richmond.

3. Why was the wife of Lot turned into a pillar of salt? Because, having been told not to look back when fleeing from burning Sodom, she disobeyed the angel's order.

4. How far is New Zealand from Australia? It is 1,200 miles east of Australia.

5. Who was the bachelor President?
James Buchanan, 1857-61.

RATTLESNAKES AND FEAR.
JOINT recently the public press carried a statement that the California health department was prepared to send rattlesnake antivenom by airplane to persons bitten by "Alamosas."

I have elsewhere said that botulinus
antitoxin has been supplied by airplane when a group of people had been poisoned by eating food containing botu-linus.

These two forms of disaster are though far enough to inaugurate a new method of practicing medicine. I once rode twenty miles in a horse drawn vehicle, holding a woman who had been bitten in the thumb by a rattlesnake.
With that recollection in mind I aim for the flying machine in cases of rattlesnake bites.

The antidote for rattlesnake bite is kept at hand in the New York zoo. It can be bought in Boston. It should be possible to get it from the boards of health of the states where the rattlesnake bite is occasionally reported.

In India and Egypt the government uses that anti-venom is available.
I am informed. The venom of the highly poisonous snakes found there poisons the poison system, while that of the rattlesnake disorganizes the blood. Therefore, the anti-venom of those countries would not help us.

But a product specific against rattlesnake bite is available for some people in some sections, as has been stated above. Why not in others? I am sure the state laboratories would comply with any considerable public demand.

I hope no one will think I am changing position on the snake question. Many people are kind enough to send me dip-lings about snake bites. When these are gone over and duplications are eliminated I find the total comes down to about two a year.

Five deaths from snake bite in the United States a year is a liberal estimate.
Will C. Barnes had an interesting article on rattlesnakes in a recent number of American Forestry. He quotes my statement that I had never personally seen a fatally due to a rattlesnake bite.

Mr. Barnes had a very wide experience. At one time he was a wholesale and retail dealer in rattlesnakes. He has known of two deaths due to rattlesnake bite—one in 1898, the other in 1899.
The remainder of about a dozen others
he has seen bitten have recovered.

Since I am quoting from Mr. Barnes story, I might as well give his method of treating a rattlesnake bite. He says:
"Above all, do not lose your head.
Throw a towel around the neck of the victim, and tie it tight. This will stop the flow of blood freely. Such as much poison as possible out of the wound. Of course, split out the poison and blood from the wound."

JOHN M'CORMACK
LOSES 24 POUNDS;
TO SING IN PARISIrish Songbird to Study
German Music.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

PARIS, Aug. 10.—Arrangements have been completed in Paris for John M'Cormack to sing in the Paris grand opera on Jan. 15.

Mr. M'Cormack and his wife are now at the Ritz, and friends are pointing with considerable pride at the new figure he has developed since his operation. He weighs 145 pounds, a 24-pound loss from his former weight of 169 pounds before the operation. Friends fear he intends to depart singing for the time in order to enjoy his newly acquired svelteness.

His a Ruddy Color.

Mr. M'Cormack weighed 244 pounds at the time of the operation in April, and in the three following days he lost twenty pounds. He now has the ruddy color of perfect health.

Mr. M'Cormack will sail for America on the Olympic Oct. 4, and while there he will make a phonograph record, "Wilder in Ireland," which was written by Tommy Lyman, a Chicago cabaret singer, who now is in New York.

He will return to London Oct. 25, and in the world will be surprised to learn that he is planning an intensive study of German master songs and music, with Sir G. Henschel, the first conductor of the Boston Symphony orchestra.

His entire training up to date has been in the Italian school, and it is a rare precedent for a singer trained in the Italian school to take up German.

May Join Paris Opera.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

LONDON, Aug. 10.—Marguerite Nannara, a member of the Chicago Opera company last season, probably will sing in the Paris opera this autumn.

At a private tea last Sunday she sang Thais for Jacques Rouché, director of the opera, who was delighted, and negotiations are now under way.

The British cabinet, like the French, supports its representatives and there seems no way out of the deadlock. That is, if the French and British protestations are taken at their face value without discount for a bluff. The British firmly believe the French are bluffing and the French express in private the same view of the British attitude.

The British cabinet meeting today lasted two hours and was attended by all the ministers except Lord Balfour, Lord Lee and Winston Churchill, who were unable to arrive in London in time. Lord Curzon, who still looks very ill, came in from the country. The cabinet fully endorsed the action of the British delegates to the conference, and also supported the view of the committee of experts which turned down Premier Poincaré's proposals.

Strive for Compromise.

Four delegates are busy tonight drawing up a statement of the British view of the entire European situation, which will be circulated to the other delegates at tomorrow's meeting, at which, unless some compromise is arrived at, the French proposals must be formally voted down.

Throughout the day the Belgians and Italians worked hard in the interests of peace. M. Theunis lunched with Mr. Lloyd George after he had spent a long time closeted with Premier Poincaré. The Italian ambassador, Sig. Martini, after a long conference with Foreign Minister Schanzer, called at 10 Downing street. It was notable after these conferences that the French seemed less pessimistic about the result of the conference.

French May Modify Demands.

It is reported tonight that the French may make modified proposals tomorrow. One version of the story is that they may agree on a long moratorium for Germany before applying Premier Poincaré's plan, hinting that it will be up to Germany to head off the sanctions by a voluntary arrangement to pay.

Another version is that France will agree to an unconditional moratorium for three months on condition that another conference be called after a more detailed examination of the situation.

ALSACE TALKS OF WAR

BY LARRY RUE

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

STRAZBOURG, Aug. 10.—Reports that the French government has abandoned its proposals for deportation of Germans from Alsace-Lorraine as sanctions to force the scheduled payment by Germany of the debt Germans owe to private allied nations, officials here have been denied here.

Instructions to prepare a list of these liable deportations have not been received, and we are awaiting daily orders to put them into effect," an official in the secretariat general's office told THE TRIBUNE today. "Reports that the order has been rescinded, as French papers announce, is untrue."

Say France Already Afraid.

General relief, rather than anxiety, seems to be the attitude of Alsacians in regard to the rumor that the League conference is enquiring in a rupture with France, which insists it would take independent action against Germany. The general opinion seems to be that the hubbub of isolation is greatly exaggerated. Some take the view that France in practice really has been isolated for some time, while officially its hands have been tied by the pretenses that an accord with Germany existed.

It is here in Alsace, where the majority of the population is of French blood, but educated and accustomed to German methods, that the people are talking more than in any other place in Europe of a next war.

CARMEN IS BLIND

MINNIE HAUK.

New York, Aug. 10.—Once the bright-eyed Carmen, whose voice thrilled opera lovers forty years ago, Minnie Hauk, now the baroness Von Hesse-Wastner, is totally blind at her little home in Lucerne, Switzerland.

This word was received here today by Judge Edmund J. Healy.

Only a few months ago the baroness, whose sight had been failing for seven years, submitted to an operation in Paris. In the belief that it had been successful, a celebration was held in her home. The celebration over, she discovered that the hope she entertained had been vain. Minnie Hauk was the first to sing the role of Carmen in the United States.

Her entire training up to date has been in the Italian school, and it is a rare precedent for a singer trained in the Italian school to take up German.

BRITISH-FRENCH
DEADLOCK OVER
GERMANY HOLDS

BY JOHN STEELE

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

LONDON, Aug. 10.—[By Tribune Wireless.]—The crisis in the London conference on Germany continued today despite efforts of the Belgians and Italians to compose the French and British differences.

The British cabinet, like the French, supports its representatives and there seems no way out of the deadlock. That is, if the French and British protestations are taken at their face value without discount for a bluff. The British firmly believe the French are bluffing and the French express in private the same view of the British attitude.

It was notable after these conferences that the French seemed less pessimistic about the result of the conference.

French May Modify Demands.

It is reported tonight that the French may make modified proposals tomorrow. One version of the story is that they may agree on a long moratorium for Germany before applying Premier Poincaré's plan, hinting that it will be up to Germany to head off the sanctions by a voluntary arrangement to pay.

Another version is that France will agree to an unconditional moratorium for three months on condition that another conference be called after a more detailed examination of the situation.

ALSACE TALKS OF WAR

BY LARRY RUE

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

STRAZBOURG, Aug. 10.—Reports that the French government has abandoned its proposals for deportation of Germans from Alsace-Lorraine as sanctions to force the scheduled payment by Germany of the debt Germans owe to private allied nations, officials here have been denied here.

Instructions to prepare a list of these liable deportations have not been received, and we are awaiting daily orders to put them into effect," an official in the secretariat general's office told THE TRIBUNE today. "Reports that the order has been rescinded, as French papers announce, is untrue."

Say France Already Afraid.

General relief, rather than anxiety, seems to be the attitude of Alsacians in regard to the rumor that the League conference is enquiring in a rupture with France, which insists it would take independent action against Germany. The general opinion seems to be that the hubbub of isolation is greatly exaggerated. Some take the view that France in practice really has been isolated for some time, while officially its hands have been tied by the pretenses that an accord with Germany existed.

It is here in Alsace, where the majority of the population is of French blood, but educated and accustomed to German methods, that the people are talking more than in any other place in Europe of a next war.

12 to 1 p. m.—Concert by Chicago Police band.

With a parade of Fords, Lincoln, and floats, and with conferences attended by 7,500 Ford dealers, yesterday was Ford day at the Pageant of Progress.

Several hundred of the well known make of automobiles, a long line of tractors, floats, and the Ford band from Detroit assembled at Michigan avenue and 8th street promptly at 10 a. m. and moved north in Michigan avenue to Elm street, thence east and southeast to the pier. Much interest in the parade was attracted by two antique drivers, one a 1903 model and the other made in 1905. The parade stretched a mile and a half.

Major Addresses Dealers.
Conferences of the 7,500 Ford dealers, which were to have been addressed by Henry Ford, were held in Congress hall at 3 and 7 p. m. and were addressed by Mayor Thompson.

Representatives of thirty-four foreign nations attended the conference of international relations which was held in Congress hall in the morning. The French, Belgian, Swiss, Czechoslovakian, British, Italian, and Japanese consuls addressed the meeting.
Pageant crowds were treated to an unusual thrill last night, when Nemo Black, aviator, who has just completed the first cross country flight, piloted his plane through exploding aerial bombs and rockets and a rain of fire. Ethel Dare, woman parachute jumper, leaped from Black's plane at a height of 2,000 feet.

Mall Flyers Do Stunts

Planes from the United States air mail field, under direction of Randolph Page, superintendent of the field at Maywood, performed thrillers in the clouds above the pier during the afternoon. Hereafter they will do formation, stunt, and tactical flying at the pageant at 4 o'clock daily.

CHINESE IN CHINA SEEK BASIS FOR FAR EAST PEACE

BY CHARLES DAILEY.
(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service)
(Copyright, 1922, by The Chicago Tribune.)
PEKING, Aug. 10.—A secret agent of the Chinese government has gone to China to confer about the coming peace conference, and possibly he may go to Moscow before he returns. Owing to objections raised, the conference will probably be held in China or Harbin.

more likely the latter.
The foreign office and all legations refuse to discuss or admit that a conference is approaching, but it is said the Chinese are willing to evacuate Mongolia provided China permits them to have trans-Siberian control of the Chinese Eastern railway, and also Japanese navigation on the Sungari river.
This, if true, means the capture of northern Manchuria by Japan, accounting for the willingness of the latter to forego money indemnity or special privileges in the Nikolaevsk compensation.

A Good Malt Extract is a Wonderful Thing

If it is made out of choice malt barley it has wonderful nourishment for every use.

But if it is adulterated with cheap corn and filled with moisture, it is of no use for any use.

So when somebody tries to sell you a malt extract cheaper than the actual price of the barley that goes into it, you can know that the barley hasn't gone into it.

Puritan Malt Extract is the richest malt extract made because it is the product of the choicest barley grown.

People evidently know this because there is a bigger demand for Puritan than all other malt extracts combined. So, when you are buying malt extract, be sure and ask for and demand

New Laboratory Discovery Ends Perspiration Troubles!

A Pure, Snow-white Vanishing Cream that Checks Perspiration Harmlessly and Naturally and Destroys Every Trace of Perspiration Moisture and Odor

Years of laboratory research perfected Nul.

AT LAST science has discovered what every dainty woman has always longed for—a perspiration corrective almost magical in its effectiveness, yet so pure and harmless that it can be used as freely and as safely as is your favorite cold cream.

The name of this new laboratory discovery is Nul. Nul is a carefully blended combination of pure and entirely harmless ingredients. To all outward appearances, it is simply an exquisite vanishing cream, but from the scientific standpoint it is a laboratory achievement little short of miraculous.

For its various properties are combined and blended in such a way that Nul retains all the soothing and skin-whitening characteristics of the finest vanishing cream and at the same time acquires the remarkable power to check perspiration harmlessly and naturally ence. For this reason dainty women everywhere now appreciate the vital importance of constantly guarding against it.

As a matter of fact, the very thought of perspiration odor and moisture is so abhorrent to most women that in the past many have taken serious risks in an effort to free themselves from it.

A Better, Safer Way

But the advent of Nul marks a turning point in methods of underarm treatment and makes the old fashioned rakeshifts as needless as they are distasteful to dainty women.

Nul possesses all the skin-whitening characteristics of the finest vanishing cream.

No longer is it necessary to run the risk of ruining clothing through contact with powerful chemicals. No longer need one face the graver danger of discoloring or infecting the skin through the application of harsh astringents.

For Nul, while it quickly and safely ends perspiration troubles, works in such a way that its use becomes a toilette custom which women delight in performing, rather than a distasteful and often dangerous operation which must be carried out through necessity.

So pure are the ingredients from which Nul is compounded that it cannot rot, injure, stain or harm in the slightest degree the most daintily colored or delicately woven fabric.

It can be applied to any part of the body with full confidence and assurance that it will not—cannot—irritate or discolor the most sensitive skin.

No Precautions Necessary

Nul can be applied at any time—day or night—after the bath—before going out or just prior to retiring. It may be applied after one is fully dressed, for even though Nul should come in contact with clothing, no possible damage can result.

There are no troublesome formulas to follow in using Nul—no annoying precautions need be taken in applying. No after-treatments are necessary.

NUL
CHECKS PERSPIRATION • NULLIFIES ODORS
"Safe as your favorite cold cream"

Simply apply Nul to underarm with the finger tips and allow it to dry. That is all. Nul dries almost instantly and leaves a fairlike, gauzy film of dainty white powder which lasts for hours.

There is no cold cream to apply—no need of additional powder—no careful treating as a precaution against rash, infection or other injury to the skin. Nul is complete in itself—a perspiration odor and moisture preventive—a soothing cream—a dainty talc—all in one.

Nul is also recommended by physicians as a corrective for perspiring feet. It is almost as popular with men as with women because it is so easy to use.

Nul may be applied after one is fully dressed. It cannot harm or discolor the daintiest fabric.

—so safe and non-irritating—so harmless to skin and clothing.

Where to Obtain Nul

Nul is made and guaranteed by the Sheffield Pharmaceutical Co., Chicago. It is sold and recommended by druggists and at toilet goods counters everywhere.

You will want to test Nul and see for yourself how it excels as a perspiration corrective. Ask for it at your druggist's or favorite toilet goods counter—or mail the coupon below with 10c for trial tube.

(NOTE: If your dealer has neglected to stock Nul, send 5c in stamps to Sheffield Pharmaceutical Co., 339 S. Wabash Ave., Chicago, for full size tube in plain wrapper.)

MEXICO FAILS TO SHIELD LEASES OF U. S. OIL LANDS

BULLETIN.

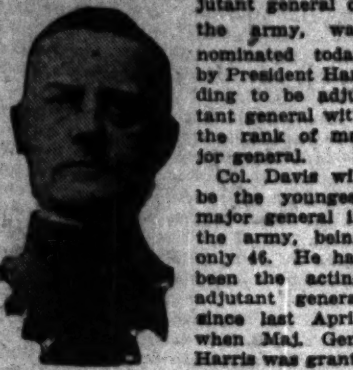

Washington, D. C., Aug. 10.—The killing of another American in Mexico was reported officially to the state department today by the American consul at Torreon, who said the man killed was Guy Marks of Columbus, O., and that G. M. Marks of San Antonio, Tex., had been wounded last Friday night at Matamoros, Durango, by bandits.

(BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.)
Washington, D. C., Aug. 10.—[Special.]—The decisions of the Mexican supreme court are all right as far as they go, but they don't go far enough to protect adequately the rights of American citizens in lands containing petroleum or other subsoil substances where the title to the lands had been secured by them prior to May 1, 1917, but upon which development work had not been done.

This, in effect, is the decision of Secretary Hughes, announced in a statement today, and served to counteract

COL. R. C. DAVIS NAMED ADJUTANT GENERAL, U. S. A.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 10.—Col. Robert Courtney Davis, now acting adjutant general of the army, was nominated today by President Harding to be adjutant general with the rank of major general.

COL. R. C. DAVIS.
Col. Davis was adjutant general of the A. E. F. in France.

the optimism over the Mexican situation reflected from the White House last Tuesday.

Outside 1917 Provisions.
"The five decisions creating the precedent in question," read the statement, "relate exclusively to leases or contracts made by owners of lands for prospecting for and working petroleum, and it is said that thereby the privileges of the owners of the lands were translated into positive acts and accordingly the claimants, as the lessees or holders of these contracts, had acquired rights in the injury of which the provisions of the constitution of 1917 for the nationalization of petroleum could not be applied."

"The inference from these decisions is that petroleum properties in process of development before May 1, 1917, when the present constitution took effect, are protected from a retroactive application of the fourth paragraph of Article 27.

Earlier Leases Untouched.
"These decisions do not, however, effectively deal with the rights of American citizens in lands containing petroleum or other subsoil substances where the lands were owned prior to May 1, 1917, but had not been developed, or as to which leases or contract rights to prospect for and work petroleum had not been previously granted."

"The department also has been advised by the Mexican authorities that the Mexican congress has sole authority to regulate by an appropriate organic law the interpretation of the precepts of the constitution, and that no organic law for this purpose has yet been enacted."

PLAN BIG EVENTS FOR COOK COUNTY FAIR AT PALATINE

Live stock and agricultural exhibits, an automobile and horse show, and harness races in which $5,000 will be given in prizes, will be among the attractions of the Cook county fair, called a "pageant of agricultural progress," to be held at Palatine, Ill., from Aug. 21 to Sept. 4.

W. P. Gorsline, L. T. House, and Isaac Hlum are president, secretary, and treasurer of the fair, and C. Dewitt Taylor, H. H. Deverman, and E. F. Stuenkel are the vice presidents.

Comprising the executive committee are the following from Chicago and the various townships:

CHICAGO—Harvey Hill, R. H. Hilde, Daniel Ryan, E. J. Tobin, W. G. Hanna, Robert M. Switzer, George P. Seale, Guy Ganssner, George A. Quinlan, W. J. Klingenberg, Frank J. Wilson, Joseph P. Thrift means a higher standard of living without added expense, the dignity of serving oneself, and domestic independence.

"Of course, I have a woman in to clean"

APOLOGETICALLY, we used to explain to the woman-with-a-maid how we managed to do all our own housework.

Naturally, in those days, we could never go any place on Friday. If we didn't stay right there and help, the cleaning woman would never get through! On that day the house was her kingdom, the family her subjects. But, of course, everybody had to have a cleaning day and a cleaning woman!

Then one of the neighbors got a vacuum cleaner. It was fun to use it, so she began running over her rugs every few days. The drapes and over-stuffed lounge received the same treatment. There wasn't much dust because there wasn't any sweeping, and on Fridays "the woman" couldn't find enough to keep her busy.

That was the end of her, and the beginning of your emancipation. You bought an electric cleaner of your own. You learned that a little cleaning every day is much easier and much better house-keeping than all the cleaning on one day. You learned not only that electricity is the most efficient cleaning aid, but also the most reliable laundress, cook and general household assistant.

The new servant in the home is electricity. Are you using her full services?

Standard of the World

The Dependability of Type 61

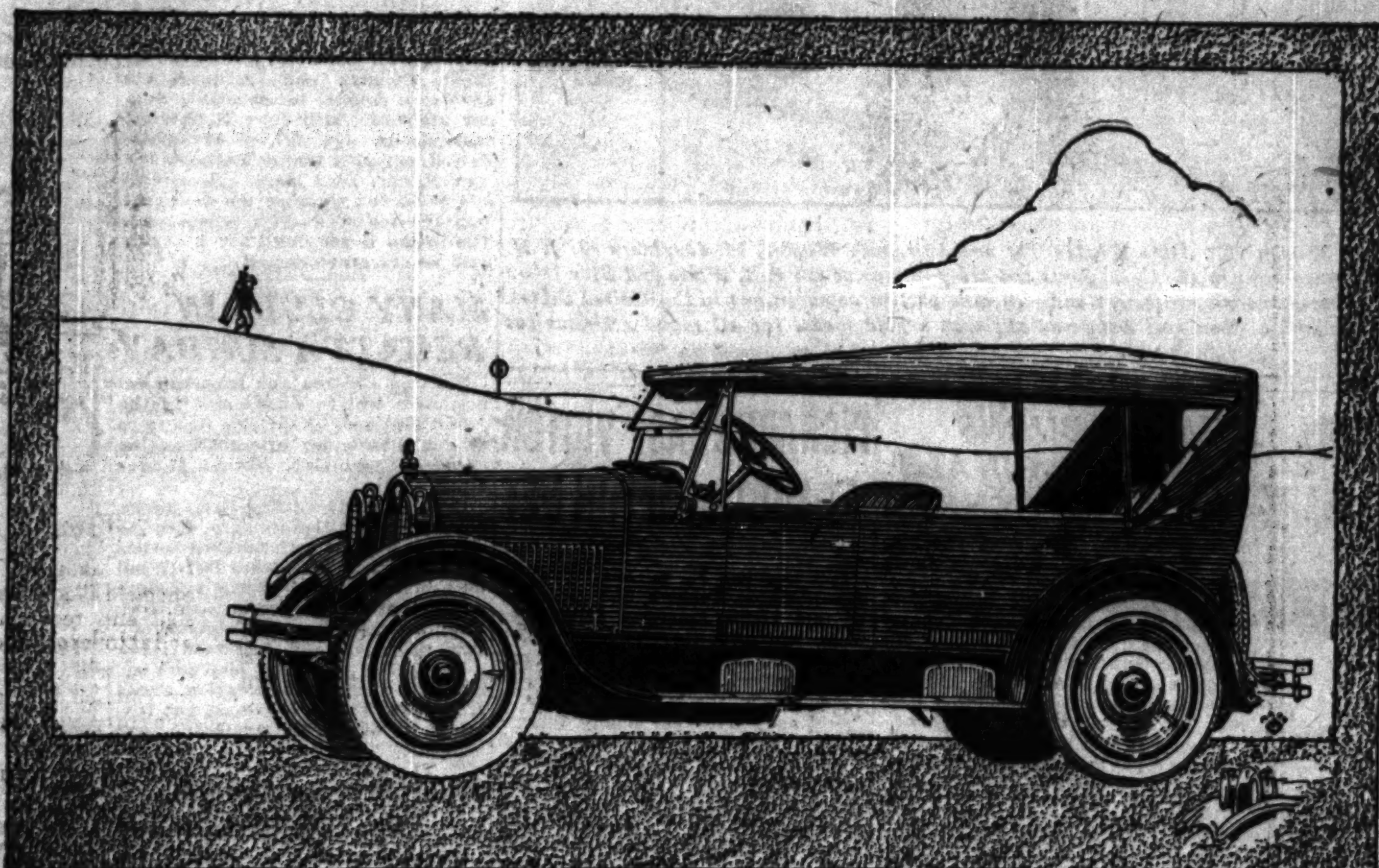

The confidence with which owners of the Cadillac expect reliable performance, not only today but next year as well, is in no degree assumed or exaggerated. Back of their perfect reliance in the car are thousands of miles of dependable service. And before them is the satisfaction from knowing that the improved new Type 61 Cadillac is the most successful of a long dynasty of cars which had already earned the title, "Standard of the World."

In Gulfstream Blue or Cuban Gray THE FIRST PHAETON REO

A revelation of how much 1645 Dollars can achieve when they are made to do their best

To delight the eyes, there are long low lines, a body of shining Gulfstream Blue or quiet Cuban Gray, a newly created Reo top, gray interior trimmings and upholstery, and fenders and steel wheels of black. —and then these

For crawls and spurts in heavy traffic, for mud and sand in detour lanes, for hills and stretches of open road, there are six Reo cylinders, with remarkable giant intake valves.

To defeat the shocks of a hundred thousand miles and more, there is the Reo double chassis, with its extra low-hung inner frame in which the power plant is suspended.

For the body's ease there are genuine Marshall springs, low seats with deep cushions of soft Spanish leather, thick carpets fitted to the floors, and ample leg-room for six-foot men.

Every essential of comfort and enduring worth is there in heaped-up Reo measure.

REO MOTOR CAR COMPANY OF CHICAGO, Inc.
2501 Michigan Avenue

For protection against scar and mar, there are C & G three-barred, full-nickelled bumpers front and rear—seven aluminum guard bars on the back panel—aluminum moulding at the back of the hood to prevent scratching when the hood is lifted—and, on the running board, step-plates and kick-plates of heavy aluminum.

To defy the weather, there are Reo-designed, clear-vision curtains—made to pack flat in a special compartment—a cleaner-equipped windshield with integral side-wings, and glass so clear that there seems to be none.

For light, there are nickel-bulbed headlamps of new design, small parking lights near the windshield braces to conserve the batteries, a special stop-signal and parking light at the rear, and a tonneau light with concealed wire long enough to serve as an extension inspection lamp.

Among the minor conveniences, there are two curtained compartments, in the backs of the front seats, for wraps and packages—between the two there is a disappearing vanity case—and on the dash, in addition to the usual equipment, an electric lighter and an eight-day keyless clock.

By providing these and many other things, we have striven to give the owners of the First Phaeton Reo, from the beginning, every desirable thing that the experienced motorist wants.

By getting them all at once and built in, he gets them at manufacturer's prices—so that even in little things every one of his dollars is enabled to do its very best.

Brooklyn, N. Y., Aug. 10.—[Special.]—The Sox that Arthur "Daisy" Vance has held over the Cubs all season was as good as over today. Everything had in baseball dropped out and the Robins had a romp in knocking the Cubs flat in the final game of the series, 16 to 1. On top of strong hurling the Robins had their hitting eyes and knocked the trio of flingers that Robinson acted Manager Dyer nominated for eighteen hits. The runs in the fourth put the contest in the Sox for Robins, but the Flamingo gang didn't quit at that. They Kanmann, who defeated the Cubs last week, started for the back hit in trouble from the very start by the board during the fourth inning. George Stubeck showed Kanmann and finished the hitting while base hits whizzed all around him. Callaghan batted for Stubeck in the fifth and Percy Jones finished, although batted hard.

Vance Starts a Root.
After the fourth Uncle Robbie pulled him from the hill and sent Al Mann to the city lot. He worked for three innings with only one hit gathered off his bowlers. Jimmy Murray, a Syracuse boy, worked the last two frames, his flingers gathering the line tally off the ninth.

The Terrible Fourth.
Then came the distressing fourth. The batsmen went to the plate thirteen times and mixed eight hits with two hit batsmen, a pass, and two blunders by Hack Miller and Bernie Rhiner. One more flatbush rally sent the Cubs fifth, three in the eighth, and one in the seventh.

The Cubs dashed for the station right after the beating to catch the train for St. Louis, where they open a three game series Saturday.

SOX WIN FROM
OTTAWA, 1 TO 0,
IN SLAB BATTLE

Ottawa, Ill., Aug. 10.—[Special.]—The Chicago White Sox won a 1 to 0 game from the Ottawa Cubs today when Joeber Davenport had the better of Tim Kurin in a pitchers' battle. Davenport was strong at every stage of the game, allowing Ottawa only two hits and giving them just one chance to score. Score:

Giants Play Bad Baseball, but Are Able to Get By—Hugh

By HUGH FULLERTON.
New York, Aug. 9.—[Special.]—New York Giants—April 1 strength, offensive, 6,914; defensive, 4,819. Strength—Aug. 19 strength, offensive, 6,811; defensive, 4,811; total, 11,622. This National League ratio appears to have reached a point where it is a contest to decide which team is the least worst. After studying the St. Louis Cardinals and discovering that they have lost heavily in defensive strength (since the start of the season I supposed of course that the Giants would show a lead in the sheer dope on team strength. Instead of which I discover that the Giants while gaining a few margin points in attacking power, have lost almost as much defensive strength as the Cardinals have. The dope in March proved that the Cards were a little stronger, but that the strength was so divided that the Giants figured to win more games. The same figuring still applies—simply because conditions and the schedule are heavily in favor of McGraw's team.

How Giants Can Win.
Unless we discover when we study those crushing Pirates, that they have strength enough to overcome the handicap of four and a half games, and a harder schedule, the Giants ought to win out finally—not because of their own strength, but because of the weaknesses of opposing teams. Thus we are forced at this stage to figure the Giants in the midst of the worst slump they have had this season. It is not a hard thing to do good ball players and discover what they will do, nor is it difficult to figure just what a bad player will do. But in the case of the Giants we find the poorest men playing ball in fact, a trifle better than the dope indicated they would, and Baneroff and Groh, who were figured to add much strength to the team, losing the ball game.

Hard Matter to Figure.
The hope of the Giants, according to all the dope, was in its "million dollar" infield and its much touted generalship. Then when the much praised infield plays amateurish ball and is covered by a bunch of pubbers and coast leaguers, and when the generalship looks much of the barnyard variety and games are thrown away by the most wretched guessing, it is hard to figure eventualities. The Giants, in their present form, will be lucky to finish ahead of Pittsburgh, the team which appears to be playing the best ball in the National League. The last three games the Giants have lost in succession were thrown away by brainless defensive work—mostly in the infield. I saw Cincinnati win one game from them by being winning attacks, which caught the Giants unaware and made them look foolish. In that same game, with the run needed to tie, men on first and second, and none out, Messel was ordered to hit the first ball, and hit into a double play.

Can't Afford to Loaf.
If the Giants are going to loaf and permit runners to go from first to second on medium flies to the outfield, and to work the double steal on them, and

COXE ENTRANT TAKES TWO YEAR OLD TROT

Cleveland, O., Aug. 10.—Thompson Dillon, driven by Joe Serrill, Paul Pa, and David C. driven by Ted Bueh, captured today's feature event of the Grand circuit racing program. Thompson Dillon proved that he is one of the best 2 year olds developed this year by winning the Bary Day event in straight heats. He led the entire distance in both heats and was master of the situation at all times. As a result of his victory the entire purse of $3,000 went to his owner and breeder, A. B. Cox of Paoli.

David C. won the North Randall trotting handicap sweepstakes of two one mile dashes, with a value of $7,100, the first event of his kind ever run here. He was the margin horse. Summary:

Bill Brennan, who broke into pugilistic fame while boxing around Chicago under the name of Bill Shanks, started preparation yesterday at the Arcade for his ten round no decision contest with White Heavyweight Champion Jack Dempsey in Floyd Fitzsimmons' arena in Michigan City, La. yesterday afternoon.

The big fellow gave a pleasing exhibition of his wares before a crowd which occupied every place of vantage in the gymnasium. Those who were unable to gain admission stood on the stairs and partially blocked the sidewalk to get a glimpse of the man who gave Dempsey the hardest battle since Jack won the title from Jess Willard. Brennan is sincere in his efforts to be in the best condition possible. Bill went on the road yesterday morning and boxed with Red Miller and Joe Phillips in the afternoon.

THREE WEEKS TO GO

Anderson has made a decided impression upon local fans because of recent victories over Jack Eile and Joe Burman. The Italian has shown marked improvement with every contest, and Manager Dick Curley predicts a win for his boxer by the E. O. route. Anderson has been made a slight favorite but there has been little waning loyalty on the result because the fans have not seen enough of Anderson.

Anderson and Dundee are scheduled to make weight at 135 pounds at 2 o'clock, standard time, in Aurora this afternoon.

In the semi-windup former flyweight champion Francis Hansen of Port Wayne, Ind., will clash with Elsie Schaeffer, local bantamweight, whose ability to mix and punch is well known to local fans. They will weigh 115 pounds.

"Hot Dog" Perry on Card.
"Hot Dog" Perry, the Hockley, Ill., fashion plate, and Vic Hirsch, local 160 pounder, will open the show in a six round contest. This bout will be followed by another six rounder between Nate Platt and Charlie Glass, local 125 pounders. Glass was scheduled to a draw with Jack Nile in Michigan City last Saturday. Ross Murphy, stocky bantamweight, and Joe McLaughlin of the west side will meet in the third preliminary. They will box six rounds at 135 pounds.

David Miller and Dave Barry will handle the show and Al Smith will be master of ceremonies. Advances sale of tickets indicates a capacity crowd. Special trains will leave over the Aurora and Elgin electric at 6:45 and 7:45 o'clock this evening, daylight saving time.

WILL TO FIGHT JACKSON.
Newark, N. J., Aug. 10.—Barry Wills, challenger for Jack Dempsey's boxing title, has been signed by a fifteen round battle for the 135 pound championship of the world, a title which Dundee holds, but for which there have been few contenders. The scrap will be held at the New York Velodrome in the Bronx, Aug. 19, and will be the first time Dundee has defended the crown since he captured it in the Garden last winter.

PIOTTS TO PLAY CERMAK.
In fact, White brought back word that Tex Rickard wants the bout for his Velodrome in New York City, while Philadelphia promoters have approached him regarding the fracas.

DUNDEE FAVORITE OVER ANDERSON IN TONIGHT'S GO

Decisions of The Tribune boxing representatives are:
At Philadelphia—Thomson Dillon best of ten rounds.
At Boston—Dundee best of ten rounds.
At New York—Dundee best of ten rounds.
At Chicago—Dundee best of ten rounds.

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.
Mike Dundee of Black Island generally considered one of the best featherweight prospects in the vicinity of Chicago in years, and Eddie Anderson, hard hitting Molins boy, expected to win tonight's contest.

Anderson has boxed some of the best boys in the bantamweight class and has not been found wanting. He is an aggressive boxer who will carry the battle to the Italian most of the way unless Dundee shows him up early in the contest with his well known right. Dundee finished work at the Arcade yesterday and said he will give the Italian the trimming of his career.

TREACHEROUS LOVE BY BARRETT WILLOUGHBY

STORY BY
Shane Rowland, a prospector cruising up the Alaskan coast in his own schooner, the "White Chief," arrived at Kaituma. He and his wife, Ellen, their little son and Ellen's sister, Mary, were welcomed by Paul Kilbuck, the agent of the Alaska Fur and Seal Trading company. Kilbuck, a strong but unscrupulous man, is known up and down the coast of Alaska as the White Chief.

Rowland's interest is aroused by Kilbuck's tales of a lost island, the sands of which, he says, are rich in gold. This mysterious island is supposed to be known as "Kilbuck's Island," and is located off the coast of Kaituma. At the mention of gold Rowland's adventurous blood is profoundly stirred, and he decides to visit the island.

Kilbuck encourages the prospector in this project, although he knows that the island is nothing more than a barren island, completely surrounded by dangerous reefs and shoals, and that the only way to reach it is by a small, uncharted strait of land ninety miles off the coast of Kaituma. But Rowland is determined to get rich, and he leaves with Kilbuck, who promises to take him to the island.

On the way, the schooner is stopped by a small boat, and a man, who is later identified as the trader, comes aboard. He is a man of about thirty, with dark hair and a mustache, and he is dressed in a suit. He tells Rowland that he is the trader, and that he is looking for a man who has a small boat and a compass. Rowland tells him that he has a small boat and a compass, and the trader tells him that he is looking for a man who has a small boat and a compass.

SCHOOL BUDGET OF $31,078,127 PASSED BY BOARD

Increase of $2,000,000 for Teachers' Pay Raise.

Meeting in special session yesterday, the board of education passed the eight months overdue budget for 1932, totaling $31,078,127, an increase of about $2,000,000 over the budget of last year's board.

The increase, according to board members, is due to the $2,000,000 raise in teachers' salaries, which will be effective with the opening of school this fall. This amount will provide for salary increases only between September and January, when the budget for the new year will be drawn up. The aggregate increase in teachers' salaries for the entire school year will amount to slightly more than $5,000,000. The raise applies only to teachers receiving less than $5,000 a year.

Playgrounds Swell Total.
Another item which swells the budget is the $540,000 appropriation for playgrounds, which were heretofore financed by the city council.

Economies effected by the new budget over that of last year amount to slightly less than $400,000. A cut of $274,000 in the allotment for the education department is the largest reduction. As passed, the total for this department was $248,797 less than was estimated early in the year.

Although declaring themselves as not satisfied with the budget, which was drawn up in the space of a few weeks, members of the board voted for it on the ground that it was already eight months overdue, and that it must be passed, despite whatever defects it might contain.

Take up New Budget at Once.
Work on the 1933 budget will begin at once, according to Chairman Hart Hanson of the finance committee, and the measure will be ready for adoption by the first of next year.

Trustee Severinghaus, chairman of the committee on buildings and grounds, who on Wednesday refused to call an early meeting of his committee to take action for the disposal of the forty-seven automobiles belonging to the board, called his committee together hurriedly yesterday and appointed a special committee, headed by himself, to arrange to sell the cars. A saving of more than $50,000 a year can be effected, it is claimed, by selling the automobiles and allowing $50 to $80 a month to employees whose business requires that they use automobiles.

RECEIVER NAMED FOR CONCESSION AT THE PAGEANT

Disagreement over the division of receipts of the Bazaar Mammouth, Wonderland company, the concern which controls the amusement and refreshment concessions near the Municipal pier during the Pageant of Progress, led Judge Donald E. Merrill, in the Circuit court yesterday, to appoint Jacob Goldman receiver for the company.

The bill for the receiver, filed by Attorney Clarence W. Shaver for Edward S. Webb, alleges that Webb, James J. McGrath, city concessionaire on the recreation end of the pier; Charles E. Peace, Lundin-Thompson concessionaire for the Twenty-first ward; Fred A. Potemkin and Frank Caguli, city hall workers in that ward, organized the concern.

"McGrath and others interested are now trying to hog the receipts," Attorney Shaver said.

Attorney Reeds appeared for all the defendants, but a few hours later Mr. Peace, who is an assistant corporation counsel, filed a disclaimer, declaring that he is not interested in the company.

C. H. McCORMICK BUYS PROPERTY ADJOINING HOME

Dismantling of the Cyrus Hall McCormick home at 50 East Huron street and the George D. Rumsey home on the northeast corner of Huron and Cass streets, which adjoin one another, to make way for a big hotel or industrial plant in the future, is seen as the result of the purchase yesterday of the Rumsey residence by Mr. McCormick.

Although Judson F. Stone, representative for Mr. McCormick in the transaction, stated that "no immediate plans for the development of the joint property are contemplated," improvement will probably be started soon.

The sellers were represented in the deal by Paul Steinbrecher & Co., while the legal details were handled by Attorney William B. McVain.

ROMANOFF GEMS

An almost priceless collection of jewels long in the possession of the Romanoffs when they ruled the Russian Empire was brought to Chicago yesterday by the Siberian representative of H. G. Fischer & Co., 2325 Wabasha avenue.

The collection consists of a circle with links of gold and silver, studded with twenty-seven rubies, two large earrings of gold, of delicate workmanship and pearl-studded, and a pendant of like design.

The Fischer company representative, whose name was kept secret at his own request, declared he bought the jewels from a Russian princess in Siberia. He brought with him also two precious Persian rugs, stolen from the palace of Grand Duke Boris.

ZOOMING PLANES DROP CAPTAIN'S ASHES INTO LAKE

Waters He Loved Open for His Grave.

Unlike Eugene O'Neill's captain, it wasn't "you old sea devil" to Capt. Johnny Durbin. The sea—or rather the inland straits, the great lakes—was his own true love.

All his life, stuck up there in his shanty, with a bit of a clay pipe between his kind old lips, he guided great vessels up and down among the lake ports.

And yesterday, as his scrawled will demanded yesterday that at a funeral over Lake Michigan off Jackson park and dropped his ashes to rest forever in the waters he loved.

Good Natured Fight.
"For twenty-five years I've fought and loved my lakes," Capt. Johnny would tell his cronies in Thiel River Falls, Minn., where he had come to anchor in the calm of old age. "Many a time I've been that close to losing the battle, and each time I've beaten back the waves. The old lake has sort of chuckled, good natured like. 'Y' got me, Johnny,' she seemed to say, 'but I'll come back for you!' Always a good natured fight, like that. Cruel the lakes were—but I loved them and they were good to me."

So the captain stipulated his body should be cremated and the ashes dropped into old Michigan. Thus it happened yesterday that at a funeral three planes from Ashburn field crawled in formation three miles out from 63d street and Jackson park. Roy Bassett piloted the leader, Ralph C. Higgins flew the third, and in the middle plane was Jimmy Curran, chief instructor at the field.

Into His Beloved Lake.
Jimmy Curran—who used to sit on Capt. Johnny's knee in the rare times when the latter came home to Thiel River Falls—bore the little box containing the ashes of his friend.

At 5,000 feet he stood and hurled the box out. In a shining parabola it plunged. The waves of his beloved lake opened, then closed, over the ashes of Capt. Johnny Durbin.

Boore's Estate $500,000; Old Employees Remembered

Requests to all of his former employees are contained in the will of the late Harry Boore, former packer and registrar of the Board of Trade, filed yesterday before Assistant Probate Judge Paul Corbett. The estate, valued at more than $500,000, goes chiefly to the widow, Mrs. Lydia H. Boore, 468 Vincennes avenue.

Two daughters, Mrs. Harriet Boore, 850 Linden avenue, Wilmette, and Mrs. Sarah Boore Wareing, 653 East 50th street, each will receive $5,000, as well as their husbands. Old employees of H. Boore & Co. are given $400 each and others $200 each.

INDUSTRY SOON WILL TRANSFORM CALUMET FLATS

Syndicate Pays $2,696, 520 for Great Tract.

Industrial boom to the Calumet district, assuring construction of millions of dollars worth of manufacturing property, was started yesterday with the purchase of 90 per cent of the stock of the Calumet and Chicago Dock and Canal company by a syndicate headed by the Van Swearingen interests of Cleveland, for $2,696,520.

Twenty-two thousand five hundred shares of the 25,000 shares of capital stock of the company were sold through Fiske, Webber & Co. to the syndicate at $75 per share. The personnel of the new organization's directorate comprises: P. O. Van Swearingen, M. J. Van Swearingen, W. S. Hayden, Otto Miller, all of Cleveland; Frank O. Wetmore, president of the First National bank of Chicago; Ralph Van Vechten, vice president of the Continental and Commercial National bank of Chicago; and Charles E. Wacker, chairman of the Chicago plan commission and head of the Chicago Heights Land association.

Will Erect Plants.
Property of company aggregates more than 1,500 acres of land in the Calumet district, most of which is ideal for erection of industrial plants, dock facilities for shipping, and railroad proximity being abundant. Within its confines is Lake Calumet, and the Calumet river, the main channel of which already carries traffic exceeding that of the Chicago river. Six railroads supply service to the district.

It is the plan of the new administration to market sites for warehouse and manufacturing purposes, build plants for clients on long-term leases, and erect residence buildings to care for neighborhood mechanics and the influx of population due to industrial development. Two hundred acres of land will be devoted to the needs of retail merchants and housing.

Mostly in City Limits.
According to Hodge, Chandler & Nicholson, dealers in industrial real estate, who will handle the marketing campaign, all of the property is practically within the confines of Chicago, the district extending from 33d street south to 154th street, and from Indiana avenue east to the Indiana state line.

SMALL MACHINE TO RUN WHEELER AS INDEPENDENT

Gov. Small's state organization took to the open yesterday at Springfield to force at least a deadlock in the organization of the Illinois legislature next January.

Definite announcement was made that State Senator John A. Wheeler, defeated in the April primaries for re-nomination by Representative Earl R. Stearns, is to be an independent candidate for state senator against George and Lawrence E. Stone of Springfield, the Democratic nominee.

Reports from Springfield are that the Anti-Saloon league is to support Dr. Wheeler. Decision to place him in the race follows a conference held in Chicago Wednesday between Gov. Small and persons who will figure importantly in the approaching legislative campaign. Other independents, backed by Small and Thompson, are expected to enter contests in several districts.

That the city hall organization will not keep its promise to support some Democrats for the legislature was a definite report last night. Among those who were faithful to the Small-Lundin program in the last legislature are now said to be Frank J. Ryan of the Englewood district and Senator Daniel Herlihy of the northwest side.

Girl, 16, Falls Unconscious in Street; Another Missing

Elizabeth Manning, pretty and 16, fell unconscious in La Salle street, just north of Monroe early last evening. Harry Fielder, who was passing, picked her up and took her to the Froquois Memorial hospital and later to the county hospital, where she was revived sufficiently to give her name and address, 719 West 24th street. She would not, however, give her name and address, and is now said to be a patient other than to say her stepfather was unknown to her and that she did not want to go home.

Evelyn Butler, 11 years old, 6723 Dorchester avenue, disappeared last night after attending a moving picture show. She told her parents she was going to the home of a friend, but failed to arrive there.

Bishop Kilgo, Methodist, South, Is Dead in Dixie

Charlotte, N. C., Aug. 11.—Bishop John C. Kilgo of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, died at his home here at 1:45 this morning after having been extremely ill since last Sunday, when he suffered a severe heart attack.

BEG YOUR PARDON

Perry Bauer, who was recently shot in the leg by auto bandits, is not a member of the firm of Bauer & Black, as was stated in Monday's Tribune. He withdrew from the concern five years ago and is now engaged in business for himself.

In recent articles dealing with receivership proceedings instituted against James A. Hoot and the Hoot Realty company, reference was made to the Hollywood Arms building, a project which was underwritten by Hoot and for which a receiver was also sought. It should be stated that the proceedings in no way involve the Hollywood-Kenners apartments, located at Hollywood and Kenners avenues.

STRONG RALLY BOOSTS GRAINS FROM NEW LOW

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Short covering was responsible for a rally in grain prices after an early break to a new low for the season on all deliveries except December wheat. At the last wheat was up 1/4¢, corn 1/4¢, oats 1/4¢, and soybeans 1/4¢. While oats were weak and 1/4¢ lower. Buying in wheat was of a better class than the selling yesterday. Local traders were bullish and sold early, while houses with eastern connections absorbed the surplus in the pit and there was also covering by some of the local professionalists who have been bearish for some time and were inclined to look for a rally simply because prices have been on the down grade for several days. The covering movement became general toward the last and the finish was all the top.

Liquidation ran its course in corn early and September, which has been leading the decline of late, reversed its position and showed more strength than the deferred deliveries.

Oats failed to reflect the firmness in other grains and closed about the bottom as the lowest figure on the crop.

Rye was dominated by the action of wheat and, with a little help in pressure, prices averaged higher after breaking early.

Freighters showed moderate strength early in sympathy with hogs and on short covering, but weakness later on selling by the buyers of early in the week. Land closed unchanged to 1/4¢ lower, and rice of 25¢. Some land and meats were taken by exporters. Prices follow:

U. S. MARSHALS AID TROOPS guard Joliet rail shops. Despite the protest of strikers both state and U. S. authorities maintain a close guard at Joliet lest a new riot break forth. Photo shows U. S. deputy marshal on the job.

DURING HIS ARMY SERVICE this photo was taken of Keller at Kelly aviation field. He was considered an able pilot and frequently drove the plane, owned by Schillo, which fell last night.

VAIN ATTEMPT to pilot plane into a water hole in nearby quarry was made by Keller.

CAPTURES colored fighter. One of the fleeing trio of gunmen was caught by Policeman J. A. Steele.

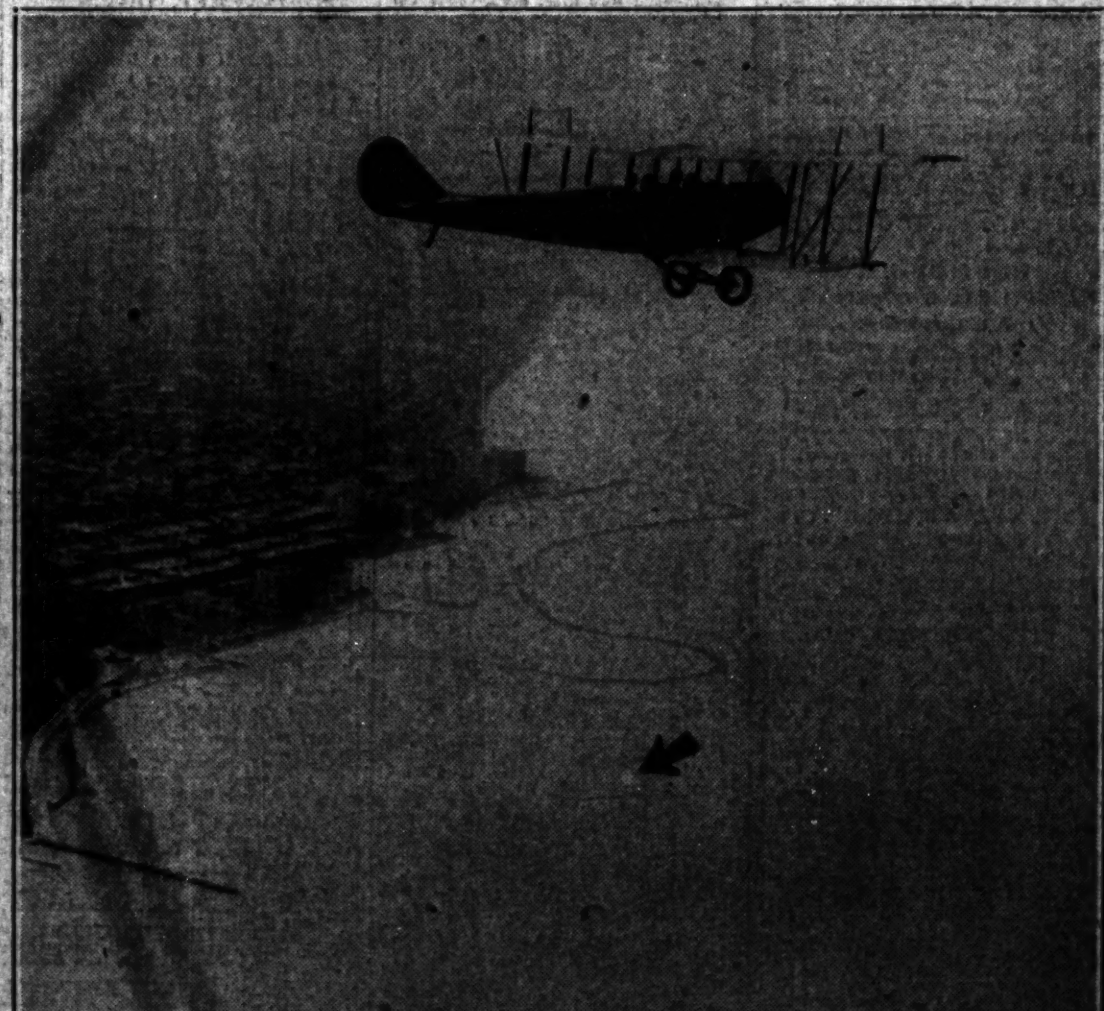

REPAIR FAMOUS BUILDING. This is a photo of the old German building, noted for its part in the World's Fair. It is now known as Liberty building.

TRAGEDY. Miss Elizabeth Jones, Princeton professor's daughter, was killed by fall at Yosemite, Cal.

COMEBACK of Thomas J. Frainey, defending title holder, features play of city golf meet.

FOREVER TO LIVE WITH THE LAKE HE LOVED. The ashes of Capt. Johnny Durbin, according to his wish, were dropped from an airplane into the lake three miles off Jackson park. Three planes were in the funeral procession. Arrow marks spot where the ashes fell into the lake.

PASSING INTO HISTORY. Because of the dilapidated condition of the Convent of La Rabida, famous structure of World Fair days, south park commissioners have ordered it wrecked.

FAMOUS DANCER AND RUSSIAN HUSBAND. Isadore Duncan is shown with M. Yesenin, reading some of the latter's works. They are soon to tour the Far East.

THESE WEDDING PLANS AREN'T SECRET. Miss Kathryn Rhineheart, 1215 Waveland avenue, and Dr. G. B. Christie of Tuxedo, N. Y., are to be married in public at Pageant of Progress today.
